Molotov Plan For Austria Turned Down

Russia Had Suggested Troops Be Maintained Even After Peace Pact

BERLIN (AP)—Austria formally rejected today Soviet Foreign Minister V M Molotov's proposal that the Big Four powers keep troops in the country even after conclusion of a treaty giving Austria its independence

Foreign Minister Leopold Figl said such an arrangement would mean there would be no liberation of his country

Proposal 'Impossible'

He told Molotov Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and foreign ministers Anthony Eden and Georges Bidault it was impossible for the Austrian government to accept the Molotov proposal

He asked which of the Big Four would be willing to present such a proposition regarding his own country to his own parliament

Figl made his direct approach inside the chamber of the Big Four conference, to which the Austrian delegation had been invited

The Western foreign ministers already have written off hope of concluding an Austrian state treaty at this conference, although the debate on it will run into an extraordinary session tomorrow

Western sources said it was hard to imagine anything more 'brutal and cynical' than the Austrian treaty demands which Molotov has put before the parley here, including a demand that Big Four troops remain in Austria even after the conclusion of an independence treaty. The Austrian government also branded the program unacceptable

Molotov in Touch

Meanwhile Molotov was believed to be in touch with Moscow and probably the Chinese Communist government at Peiping on the Western proposal for calling of a Korean peace conference April 15 at Geneva Switzerland

Under the Western plan the United States Russia, Britain and France would send invitations to the conference but Red China would not be one of the sponsoring powers

To compel Molotov to respond to the Western ideas the three presented him a specific plan that the Big Four—not the Big Five—should join in sponsoring a Korean conference as a first move toward settling the Indochina fighting

Informants said the place and time were not particularly important from the Western viewpoint and in fact are largely academic unless Molotov is willing to abandon his idea of a conference which is essentially a Big Five conference. This would mean for him a kind of slap in the face to Red China No one can tell what the Soviet minister will eventually do but there is no great optimism here at the moment about reaching agreement on a Far East plan

Adamant to Pleas

Adamant before pleas from the West Soviet Foreign Minister V M Molotov declared yesterday Russian troops will remain in Austria until a German peace treaty is written To this new condition he added an old one—the troublesome Trieste problem also must be solved first

Western delegations indicated clearly the conditions could not be accepted They now see no chance

Policewomen Of New York Help in Probe

Two Attorneys, Two Women Arrested in Million-Dollar Racket

MONTREAL (AP)—A second Montreal lawyer and two women were arrested last night in an expanding drive aimed at smashing an alleged three million-dollar U S-Canadian baby smuggling ring

The last three arrests bringing to four the number held in the case were made here after decoy transactions were completed by the Montreal city police department and two New York policewomen for the purchase of a baby The three apprehended were not identified U S authorities have been assisting the Canadians in the investigation

Attorney Arrested

Last night's arrests followed the arrest earlier yesterday of Herman Buller, another Montreal lawyer as he awaited a plane for Israel Buller who pleaded innocent on his arraignment last night was released under $2 000 bail pending a preliminary hearing Feb 19 He is accused of lending his legal talents to the alleged ring

Officials said last night's arrests were made at a north end residence here after $3 500 had changed hands and a birth certificate reportedly falsified had been provided the decoy baby purchasers

The transaction completed Quebec provincial and Montreal city police raided the house Police said they recovered the money which had been marked and took custody of the baby Arrangements for the sale were carried on for three days the police added

To Be Arraigned Today

The three taken into custody were to be arraigned in court today on undisclosed charges

Buller's arrest blew the lid off the probe

Police arrested him at Montreal's Dorval Airport yesterday as he was about to leave the country with his wife and parents He was charged with 'aiding, abetting counselling and advising" in connection with an indictable offense It was charged also he had violated a law covering falsification of documents, including birth registries

Buller's attorney said Buller had been acquitted of similar charges two years ago

Defense Hints Witness Found At Death Scene

Mansfield Officer Denies Man Sighted Leaving Burning Store

MANSFIELD Ohio (AP)—The possibility that a witness was in a burning building in Mansfield where Mrs Leah Sternbaum met death was suggested yesterday by the attorney defending Max Sternbaum at his trial on first degree murder charges

The attorney, Paul M Herbert, asked Paul Martin, Mansfield police identification chief

'Didn't you ascertain there was a man on the second floor of that building' Didn't you see him come down attired in night apparel'

'No, I did not" Martin replied

The state claims Sternbaum 35 killed his 31-year-old wife with a 14-inch wrench in the office of a supermarket chain, of which Sternbaum is an executive on Dec 4, 1952 The state maintains Sternbaum was unhappy in his marriage and couldn't get a divorce, and had a serious love affair' with another woman The state claims Sternbaum set fire to the office after killing his wife in an attempt to destroy evidence

Sternbaum claims he and his wife were attacked by robbers who beat them and set fire to the office He says he came to and crawled out of the burning building but was unable to save his wife.

Meeker Gains Area

Changes in School Districts Draw Fire

Decision to transfer to Meeker School district a one million dollar addition to its tax duplicate has aroused dissatisfaction in other Marion County districts

Meeker's gain in school district area came about as a result of a new state law which provides that districts which maintain no schools shall be absorbed by other districts with schools

The Meeker Local district was awarded a segment of Marion Local district in Marion Township in which lies the Erie Railroad yards Although few school pupils live here, the addition is a valuable plum to add to the tax duplicate with the area valued at nearly one million dollars for taxing purposes

Court Test Possible

Although other school districts surrounding Marion Local stand to gain valuable property additions from its dissolution as well as increased pupil strength not all are satisfied with the division which has been approved by the Marion County Board of Education A court test may be the result

So far only the Meeker share has been determined The rest of the Marion Local district will be transferred at a meeting Feb 25 in the county school superintendent's office

Scott (Kirk) school district also will be absorbed by another district The break-up of this district will be made sometime this spring or summer

Boundaries of Area

Boundaries of the area already transferred are State Route 203 on the west, Marion City corporation limit on the east Erie Railroad yards on the south and a line approximately one-half mile south of Route 30 on the north

Residents of the area petitioned for transfer to the Meeker district, county superintendent of schools D T Mills said

Since state law requires transfer of school districts be made to adjoining districts portions of Green Camp and Morral districts had to be shifted to Meeker to comply with wishes of the petitioners

Green Camp and Morral should gain some area, however, when the rest of Marion Local is transferred

Morral loses a few students to

Church Target For Raids by Police in Italy

Religious Troubles Flare; Name Chiseled From Building Wall

ROME (AP)—Italian police descended today upon Rome's Church of Christ chiseled its name off a wall and took a news cameraman of the Associated Press into custody today for photographing them

They vainly ordered an AP correspondent away from the scene

The word 'Christ' in six inch high letters was the first word removed in this action against the Protestant religious organization which has American financial backing

Follows Leghorn Action

The Roman police struck quickly after worshippers were forced to leave a Church of Christ in Leghorn late last night

AP Photographer Remo Nassi an Italian citizen was seized with his camera and hustled off in a police car despite protests AP Correspondent Allan Jacks a U S citizen was ordered to leave but refused Later Nassi was released without charges and his camera was returned

The police left as soon as the name had been entirely removed from the wall

Jibe at Preachers

The sign was removed on direct orders of the Rome Questura, or police headquarters which is under the Italian ministry of interior

The new premier of predominately Roman Catholic Italy, Mario Scelba is the minister of the interior as well as government chief

The chief of the police party declined at first to give his name and identified himself as "Commendatore Pinko This was an obvious jibe at Church of Christ preachers, who in the past fre-

Russians Eying Allied Split on China Debates

Sources Fear Goal Could Be Reached if Conference Developed

SEOUL (AP)—Informed sources in Korea, who have negotiated with the Communists said today Russia stands a good chance to achieve one of its major objectives—exposing a split in Western policy towards Red China—if a major power conference on the Far East is held

The question of convening a Far Eastern conference is under discussion among the Big Four foreign ministers now meeting in Berlin The news that Russia's V M Molotov will propose an assembly including representatives of Asian nations came as no surprise here

A top authority who declined to be identified said such a move was anticipated when efforts to arrange a political settlement on Korea failed

Diplomats See Rhee's Attack Threat as Bluff

French To Reject Offer Of South Korean Help Against Vietminh Foe

WASHINGTON (AP) — American diplomats were understood today to view South Korean President Syngman Rhee's threat to march against North Korea as a bluff—just what he said it wasn't intended to be

They also were known to hold out slight hope for his government's offer of troops for Indochina

A French Embassy spokesman said yesterday his government—which still has not received the offer officially—would reject the proferred South Korean division for fear its involvement in the ugly eight year-old war might bring on open Red Chinese intervention in Indochina

The French commissioner general for Indochina said in Bangkok today that his country still is ready to negotiate a settlement with the insurgent Vieminh Maurice Dejean the commissioner charged at a news conference that military help from China is prolonging the conflict

Dejean said France is trying to prevent another Korea' and he voiced confidence that the Vietminh rebels would be repelled from the Laotian capital of Luang Prabang Enemy elements he said are within 12½ miles of that city

The Indochina problem caused some political repercussions in France, where Assemblyman

Atomic Energy Message Slated By Eisenhower

THOMASVILLE Ga (AP)—President Eisenhower will send Congress a special message next week on peacetime use of atomic energy by private industry in the United States and on sharing of certain atomic information with America's allies

The President's plans were announced here today as he was spending the weekend bird hunting as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey

James C Hagerty, presidential press secretary told newsmen the special message to Congress will be in two main sections

One said Hagerty, will outline suggested legislation 'to encourage peacetime use of atomic energy in this country by private enterprise"

The second section he added will deal with proposals Eisenhower has made in the past—in his Jan 7 State of the Union Message for example—for changes in the law to permit exchange of tactical information about atomic weapons with America's allies

Such information would deal with the effects of atomic weapons and not in any way with how to produce the weapons

Democrat Sees Few Effects in Attacks by GOP

Sen. George Unruffled By Talks; Says Blasts Usual Before Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen George (D Ga) said today the battle royal between Republicans and Democrats over GOP charges of past Communist coddling—which roared to a cross country crescendo on Lincoln Day—may not, after all, have much lasting effect

'This is a political year and you've got to expect things like that' the veteran Georgia Democrat said in an interview With congressional elections coming this year, he said he doesn't think anything much can be done to stop the infighting

Lincoln Day Barrage

Republican speakers—with some notable exceptions—loaded their oratorical artillery for the big Lincoln Day barrage yesterday with much the same sort of denunciation that had already brought Democratic complaints Democrats have accused some GOP spokesmen of going beyond the laws of political warfare by seeking so the Democrats said to fasten the epithets of communism and treason on the minority party President Eisenhower this week advised his fellow party members against extreme partisan utterances

Among the speakers who conspicuously tempered their criticism yesterday were members of the President's official family and Sen Ferguson (R Mich) chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee

Jenner Not Restrained

Ferguson at the last minute discarded a prepared speech in which he charged that 'New Dealers and Fair Dealers and Left Wingers traded the lifeblood of American youth for a wartime economy (and) promoted phony prosperity'

Instead, at a Republican dinner in Brooklyn Ferguson extolled the accomplishments of the Republican party since 1860

Some other congressional Republicans were less restrained Sen Jenner (R Ind) accused Fair Dealers' of putting 'every possible handicap in the way of troops in Korea

From various speakers came phrases like disgraceful era of corruption and disloyal conduct of men in high places'

Cooker Bursts, 3 Women Hurt

Burned in Explosion In Kitchen at School

Three women who were helping to prepare for a chicken supper Friday at the Silver Street School were burned when a 15-quart pressure cooker filled with chicken exploded in the school kitchen

Mrs Donald Strickland of 530 Toledo Ave who was in charge of the supper was burned on the right side of her face an eye and back Mrs John Dunnan of Avondale Ave was burned about the face eyes and head and Mrs Harold Christian of Meadow St was burned on the left side of her face and her ear

The were among about 15 women in the kitchen when the accident occurred about 2 o'clock Another of the women, Mrs Chester McJunken sprained her back when she slipped and fell in the kitchen while hurrying to get from the room after the explosion

The burned women were taken by the school principal James Hill, to the Marion Clinic where they were treated

Mrs Strickland said the three returned to the school after being treated and went ahead with preparations for the supper which was held last night.

Broad View Taken

Farm Program To Help All, Benson Aide Claims

CHICAGO (AP) — Undersecretary of Agriculture True D Morse said today the administration's proposed new farm program was designed to help all the people — not farmers alone

'Agriculture must be dealt with as a total industry—taking in all those who produce process store, finance sell and otherwise work with farmers and farm products,' he said

"The narrow view" he added 'is to consider only the 16 per cent of the population now living on farms Such a limited approach will restrict agricultural progress . . . The administration's program will increase the well-being and prosperity of all the people That is why President Eisenhower has given it such close study"

Morse made these remarks in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders Assn.

The administration program would place less dependence on price supports and production controls than do present farm programs

Morse said the present program of high rigid price supports and controls is one of scarcity' that would do damage to the total economy by reducing employment in the marketing transportation and processing of farm products

Criticizing high supports for corn and other livestock feed grains Morse said livestock producers and feeders are entitled to have 'flexibility in the costs of their feed to go along with flexibility in the prices they receive for cattle, hogs, poultry and dairy products

He said present scarcity of pork and pork products and accompanying high prices can be blamed on price supports which encourage farmers to store corn under government price supports rather than feed it to hogs.

Test Site in Pacific

Preparations for H-Bomb Explosions Near Climax

HONOLULU (AP) — Preparations for the coming hydrogen bomb test series in the Pacific are nearing a climax according to indications in this strategic Pacific staging area

But there is no indication any of the planned series of tests has actually started

A recent rash of Pacific area earthquakes has prompted speculation that an H bomb already has been exploded but seismologists flatly deny the possibility of any such connection They say the biggest bomb yet devised by man is still a peanut compared to the eruptions of nature

Expected Soon

The tests, which will include the first trial of an actual combat designed hydrogen bomb, are expected in two or three weeks

Alvin Graves director of the 1954 tests at the Marshall Islands Atomic Proving Grounds, passed through Honolulu two weeks ago and is presumably in the test area now He did not answer his hotel phone during his stopover here

Maj Gen Percy W Clarkson commanding officer of Atomic Task Force Seven left Honolulu a month ago presumably for the Marshall Islands and returned last week Two days later he left again, in the same direction An Army spokesman reported his arrivals and departures without further comment

An informant at Holmes and Narver an engineering and contracting firm which supplies men and materiel for the atomic tests said the movement of construction personnel to the test area is about over He said it was expedited in the last three weeks

No Advance Warning

The Atomic Energy Commission notified airlines in advance of the 1952 tests to stay clear of the area Because of news leaks at that time they have now been told there will be no such advance warning this time

One airline spokesman said that in case of any danger they would be notified on an emergency basis.

The Weather Bureau provides a hint that the tests are still two or three weeks off at best Prevailing winds through February blow west to east across the Pacific and could carry dangerous atomic dust clouds to Hawaii and the United States

Official comment on the approaching tests is nonexistent Military and civilian spokesmen decline comment on anything to do with the top-secret subject They look hurt if you even mention the word

Adventure Ends Happily

Boy, 16, Nearly Starves For Love of His Pet Dog

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Bob White and his friend, Motor—both of them—slept warm and comfortable in their new home last night.

Bob, 16, almost starved to death to stay here with Motor when the family moved some 400 miles west to Andrews, Tex., last October.

There was just no way for Bob's mother and stepfather to take the dog with them. Andrews is a bit off the beaten path out north of Lubbock and transportation, even for people, is difficult. It's almost impossible for a Black Cocker Spaniel with soulful brown eyes.

Boy Stays With Dog

So when the family moved to more promising fields Bob decided to stay with Motor, whose tail moves in circles, just like a motor.

Bob and his friend made their home on the banks of the Wichita River. They took donations of food from warm-hearted river folk and roamed the river banks for driftwood to keep their shack warm.

Finally, his clothing badly worn and food becoming scarcer, Bob dropped out of high school. But he and Motor, that tail still wagging, were seen along the river—trying to fish and hunting driftwood or whatever the little river would give up.

Absence from school brought the "visiting teacher" looking around. He was Mike Locascio, an Optimist Club member, who took more than a truant officer's interest in the boy and his dog.

Boy Sent to Family

Mike made arrangements with juvenile authorities to send Bob on west to his family. But the boy was heart-broken when Jan. 28 he was placed on an Andrews-bound bus, without Motor.

The Optimist Club wasn't through however. Curtis Cook, president of the club and managing editor of the Wichita Falls Record-News, went to work.

Yesterday, after two railroads had combined facilities to get Motor to Odessa, Tex., he was placed in a truck owned by Glen Clark, president of the Odessa Optimists.

Clark called last night to say that Motor, that short, black tail spinning furiously, had been reunited with Bob, still scrawny and spindly from his three-months stay on the river bank.

"Oh boy," said the boy as Motor yelped in joyous recognition.

Youth To Appear In Juvenile Court On Traffic Charge

Clifton Eugene Kinnear, 17-year-old Magnetic Springs youth, is scheduled to appear before Juvenile Judge E. J. Ruzzo at 10 a.m. Wednesday on charges that he made a false statement as to his age in obtaining a driver's license.

Kinnear last Saturday night led the police of three cities on a 100-mile an-hour chase from Delaware to Marion to Bucyrus. The youth is charged also with crashing traffic lights, speeding and resisting arrest.

He is being held in the Marion County Juvenile Detention Home pending the hearing.

Disposition of four other juvenile traffic law offenders, in line with a policy initiated last month in Juvenile Court, were reported by Judge Ruzzo.

David L. Gatchell, 17, of near Caledinia, Gary L. Bowman, 16, of near Prospect, and Edwin L. Pierce, 17, of 382 Fahey St., appeared in court on charges of excessive speed.

Gatchell's license was suspended until he reaches the age of 18, Bowman's license was restricted to business use until he reaches the age of 18, and Pierce's license was suspended for 30 days.

Driver's license of Jay P. Isaly, 17, of 1 Chelsea Ave., was restricted to business use until he reaches the age of 18. He was charged with following another vehicle too closely.

Marion Man To Head Isaly's Store at Upper

A Marion couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riddle of Fies Ave., have become owners and managers of the Isaly Co. franchise store in Upper Sandusky. The change in management became effective Feb. 1.

For five years Mr. Riddle was manager of the Isaly store on S. Main St. He hadn't been associated with the Isaly Co. recently until assuming the new job in Upper Sandusky.

Mr. and Mrs. Riddle and their 12 year-old daughter plan to move to Upper Sandusky in the near future.

Democrats

There were Democrats, too, who did not take the pounding as philosophically as did George. National Chairman Stephen Mitchell in Helena, Mont., accused the GOP of "a sinister campaign to plant in the mind of every person the dark suspicion that the Democratic party is some how the party of communism."

Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, said last night perhaps "there is a lesson . . . for us today" in the intemperate way in which politics were conducted in Abraham Lincoln's time.

"The results were very sad indeed," Stevenson said in a CBS television interview, recalling that before the Civil War Lincoln had pleaded for moderation in political strife between regions.

A demand for the firing of GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall was made in the House yesterday by Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich). Rabaut said the chairman was taking part "in a plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors" in party attacks on the Democrats.

Hall made no Lincoln Day speech, only sending a message to a National Republican Club dinner in New York in which he predicted "we can look forward together to the new Republican era springing from the notable achievements" of the Eisenhower administration.

Secretary of Defense Wilson also refrained from hammering the Democrats in the issue of communism. He told the club the end of Korean fighting need not mean a depression and said he has "no patience with the people who seem to think that blood spilling and jobs are synonymous."

Atty. Gen. Brownell in Boston quipped about "be kind to Democrats week" but said he did not think the Democrats' call for an end to extreme partisanship is a threat to block worthy legislation.

Local Officers Elected By Barbershop Quartets

Officers were elected recently by the Francis Marion Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America Inc.

The 30-member, non-profit organization was started last October, and meets each Monday at 8 p.m. at the YMCA.

New officers are Wilbur Stumbo, president; Wilson Tway, vice president; Walter E. Mathiot, secretary-treasurer; Arthur Martin, associate secretary; and Harold Alexander, music librarian. Director of chorus and quartet is William D. Busch, of near Marion.

Mathiot disclosed the local organization expects very shortly to receive its charter from the international headquarters of SPEBSQSA in Detroit. When it does come, he said, "quite a show" is planned at the presentation ceremony.

School Dance Proceeds Will Go to Heart Fund

Proceeds of the Edison Junior High School Hi-Tri-Y "Heart Hop" tonight at the YMCA will go to the Marion County Heart Fund, officers and advisors of the teen-age organization announced today. The event will be for junior high school age young people and their guests, with a group of 16 chaperons attending. Time of the dance will be 7:30 until 10.

Committee chairmen include Sondra Coon, decorations, Linda Price, chaperons, Sandra McCoy, refreshments, Judy Steele, music, and Beverly Whittington, tickets. The chaperons will include Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faust, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Price, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coon, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stanley, Mrs. Alfred Whittington, Mrs. Harry Speck, Mrs. Virgil Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. William Wylie, and Mrs. F. D. Jackman.

Scooter Hits Car; Youth, 17, Suffers Injuries

Donald E. Smith Hurt, 2 Drivers Arrested on Intoxication Charges

A Marion youth was injured and two drivers were arrested on charges of drunken driving in three of four traffic accidents reported today by city police. No accidents in the county were reported by the state patrol or sheriff's deputies.

Hurt in a collision of a motor-scooter and a parked automobile in front of 475 Silver St. at 12:42 a.m. today was Donald E. Smith, 17, of 889 Adams St. Taken to City Hospital in a Boyd ambulance with a cut on his right leg and possible internal injuries, he is listed in "fairly good" condition at the hospital today.

Runs Into Auto

Police investigating the accident say they have not determined exactly how it happened. Apparently Smith was riding the motor scooter east on Silver St. and collided with the rear of the parked car owned by Donald Bassler of 474 Silver St. The rear of the car was damaged and the motor scooter nearly demolished, police said.

A collision with a utility pole brought about the arrest of William K. Boyd, 50, of Twin Oaks Trailer Park at 1:20 a.m. today on N. Prospect St. Police reported seeing Boyd driving north on N. Prospect St. at a fast speed. They followed him but were unable to stop him until after his car sideswiped the utility poll in front of 325 N. Prospect St. and he turned off onto London St., they said.

Sentenced to Jail Term

Charged with drunken driving Boyd pleaded guilty in Municipal Court this morning. He was sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail, fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

Another driver, Ralph A. Congrove, 51, of Coolville, O., was charged with drunken driving following a collision with a car driven by Fred M. Sims, 43, of 280 Bellevue Ave. at N. Main and George Sts. at 3:40 a.m. today. Both cars were damaged but no injuries were reported, police said. In Municipal Court this morning, Congrove pleaded not guilty and his bond for appearance for a hearing was set at $150. Unable to post the bond, he was being held in the city jail.

Only other accident in the city involved cars driven by Mary E. Kates of 405 Uncapher Ave. and W. K. Zinszer, 39, of Upper Sandusky. It occurred at N. State and E. Fairground Sts. at 2:42 p.m. Friday.

2 Youths Injured In Morrow Crash

Two MT. Gilead youths are in "fair" condition this morning at Morrow County Hospital after the automobile in which they were riding struck a tree about three miles north of Mt. Gilead on Route 42 at 1:10 a.m. today.

The Marion post of the state highway patrol reports a car driven by Jerry N. Shambaugh, 19, failed to negotiate a sharp curve, careened across Morrow County roads 33 and 110, and struck a large tree on the property of Alpha Taylor. Patrolmen said the tree was "completely torn down" as a result of the blow.

Shambaugh and Louis Osborne Jr., 19, of Mt. Gilead were taken to the Morrow County Hospital by the Craven ambulance. State police reported Shambaugh suffered lacerations of the face and a possible head injury, while Osborne sustained lacerations of the face, and a fractured collarbone and right ankle. Hospital authorities described their condition this morning as "fair."

According to the highway patrol, the front end of the car was demolished and taken to a garage in Mt. Gilead.

No other accidents were reported by the patrol.

The building in which Mrs. Sternbaum was killed is a two-story converted residence, with three rooms on each floor. The ground floor was occupied by the supermarket offices. The upper rooms were used as living quarters.

Coroner Testifies

In other developments yesterday:

Dr. D. C. Lavender, Richland County coroner, testified Mrs. Sternbaum's face and feet were burned, but clothing protected her torso.

Detective R. Bruce Friday testified Sternbaum once told him it seemed logical to disregard robbery as a motive in the slaying. He said three rings and a watch were found on Mrs. Sternbaum's body, and Sternbaum's empty wallet and watch were found near the building.

Herbert moved for a mistrial when Friday testified Sternbaum was asked to submit voluntarily to a lie detector test. The motion was overruled. The trial resumes Monday.

In effect, Russia has thrown up a roadblock to Austria's independence that may stand for years. With Austria now added, Molotov's interlocking network of diplomatic snares for the West has grown appreciably in the first three weeks of a conference called to relax tensions.

Hopeless Proposals

As he has outlined Russia's position, there now cannot be an Austrian independence treaty until both the Trieste and German problems are settled, there cannot be a German treaty until both the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Defense Community project are liquidated, and there cannot be peace in Asia until Red China is granted an honored place among the world's big powers, a place the West insists she does not presently deserve.

Despite the near hopelessness of further discussion, the ministers called for another examination of the Austrian case at 3 p.m. (9 a.m. EST.)

Only on the Asian front do the Western ministers see any hope in the closing days of the conference. Dulles indicated his own demand of progress by asking that a committee be named to map out the conference's unfinished work. He said he could not remain indefinitely in Berlin but must get back to Washington next week to report to President Eisenhower and Congress before going on to the Inter-American Conference opening March 1 at Caracas, Venezuela.

Former St. Mary Pastor Dies in Hospital at Lima

MINSTER — Rev. Edward H. Summe, 58, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church at McCartyville and a former assistant pastor in Cincinnati and Marion, died at 8:20 a.m. today. His death occurred in St. Rita's Hospital in Lima after an illness of a month.

Born Feb. 4, 1896, in Mt. Healthy, O., he was the son of Louis and Mary Staab Summe. He had been pastor of the Sacred Heart Church since July 6, 1939, when he left Marion where he had been assistant pastor of St. Mary Church. Ordained May 7, 1922, after study for the priesthood at St. Mary Seminary at Cincinnati, he first served as assistant pastor of the old Cathedral at Cincinnati, then as assistant at St. Paul's Church there, before going to Marion.

Surviving are his mother who lives in Mt. Healthy, and two sisters, Mrs. Edwin Buescher and Mrs. Robert Hadley, both of Mt. Healthy.

Pontifical Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Wednesday at 9 a.m. at the Sacred Heart Church. There will be services possibly on Thursday also at the Assumption Church at Mt. Healthy. Burial will be at Mt. Healthy. The body is at the Heinl Funeral Home in Minster.

Marion Man Returned To Florida for Trial

Hugh Lewis, sheriff of Suwanee County in Florida, accompanied by a deputy, drove to Marion Friday to return J. D. Ritchie, 48, of 888 N. Main St., to Florida where he will face charges of grand larceny.

Ritchie this week waived extradition rights in a Common Pleas Court hearing before Judge Paul D. Smith, and was turned over to Florida authorities on a governor's warrant.

County Education Group To Conduct Workshop Feb. 19

Motivation of school children will be the theme of the annual Marion County Education Association workshop scheduled for Feb 19 in the Green Camp elementary school.

About 165 Marion County teachers, from grades one through 12, will attend the workshop. Separate discussion groups, led by Ohio education specialists, will be held on social studies and physicial education, mathematics and science, languages and music, the vocations grades one and two, grades three and four, and grades five and six.

The morning session will be keynoted by Prof. Earl Metz of Capital University and Robert Lucas of the Ohio Education Association.

Discussion leaders include: Miss Hortensia Dyer, director of elementary education in Columbus city schools; Prof. John Slaymaker, Wittenberg College; Prof. Lewis Evans, Columbus University School; Prof. Earl Holshall, Ohio Wesleyan University; and Harold Boles, superintendent of Marion Local school in Franklin County. Metz and Lucas also will lead discussion groups.

Meeker by the transfer, Mills said.

The two Marion County districts affected by the law, Marion and Scott, have been sending their students to nearby schools on a tuition basis. The new state law is effective June 1, 1954.

County board members met with the Marion local board Oct. 22, 1953 and with Scott Nov. 27, 1953 to discuss the transfer. Two petitioners for transfer of a portion of the Marion district to Meeker were accepted Dec. 31, 1953. The Meeker transfer was effective Feb. 9.

Continue in Old Schools

Students already in the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades may not be affected by the change, Mills said. Ohio school policy provides that students can finish high school where they start despite district transfers, he said.

Permission already has been granted for students involved in the Meeker transfer to stay where they are through June. Mills said permission probably will be extended for other high school students next fall.

The Feb. 25 meeting should decide where the White Oaks, Eckley and The Woods areas of Marion Local will go. White Oaks will join either Green Camp, Pleasant or Marion City, Mills said, while Claridon or Marion City will take Eckley and The Woods students. The remaining section west of the city will join either Marion City or Meeker.

Youth Radio Panelists To Discuss TV Effects

"Effects of Television on Youth" will be discussed by members of the Marion Youth Forum at 3 p.m. Sunday over Radio Station WMRN. Guest moderator again will be Miss Clara Alice Wilson, principal of Pearl Street School.

Student panelists will include Ann Larkin and Doug Montgomery from Harding High School, Marilyn Ware from Edison Junior High School, Suzie Rinnert from Eber Baker Junior High School, and Judy Smith from Taft Junior High School.

Adults guests will be Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, a former teacher, and mother of three children, and Clark Fouts, principal of Eber Baker Junior High School.

14 Are Stopped By Patrolmen

Eight Drivers Charged With Speed Violations

A total of 14 arrests were reported this morning by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Eight drivers arrested on speeding charges were: Booker T. Smith, 24, Detroit, posted bond for appearance in Municipal Court Feb. 16; James E. Gerster, 41, Bucyrus, cited for Municipal Court Feb. 20; Glenn L. Robinson, 23, near Ostrander, posted bond for appearance in court today; Fred McCann, 24, Cincinnati, fined $25; Mensley, Ky., $30 and costs, Mayor Healea; Carl F. quently have been assailed by Italian critics as leftists. This they have always denied.

Later the police officer apologized and identified himself as Commissario De Rusk, the precinct captain.

In 1950, when the cult's troubles with Italian authorities first began the Italian interior ministry was headed by Scelba. He then criticized the Church of Christ and other Protestant evangelical cults as "aiding communism in Italy."

Just two days ago, the Vatican and the Italian government celebrated the 25th anniversary of the lateran pacts. The pacts establish the Roman Catholic religion as the Italian state religion.

The new republican constitution says "all religious confessions are equal before the law."

Reports on Difficulties

Last month Dr. Cline Rex Paden of Brownfield and Lubbock, Tex., who first organized the Church of Christ in Italy, visited the United States to report on what he called "continued difficulties" of the evangelical church in Italy.

In the first collective letter of its kind, Italy's top Roman Catholic prelates warned Catholics Feb. 1 against what was described as Protestant propaganda. The letter, signed by the cardinal archbishops of eight major Italian cities and bishops and archbishops of 11 other cities, said:

"Pernicious errors are arising in Italy from Protestant propaganda which tends to menace the spiritual unity of the Italian people."

Galion Talk Given By Marion Woman

GALION — The radio will never go out because many people are still imaginative, and like to mentally visualize the program. This point was emphasized by Miss Madge Cooper, director of women's activities at Marion Radio Station WMRN, when she was guest speaker for the February meeting of the Galion Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday at First Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Miss Cooper surprised her audience when she told them that she had gone into radio work because she wanted to rest her nerves from a routine that had included writing short stories, plays and magazine articles while teaching high school English and summer camp dramatics and folk dancing. She is heard on "Over the Coffee Cups" program six mornings each week.

Another program feature was a group of vocal numbers by Mrs. W. W. Koppe, with Miss Marguerite Dorian at the piano.

When Mrs. Catherine Ritchey presided for a business session, the club voted a donation of $25 to the Heart Fund and discussed plans for the door-to-door heart campaign for Sunday, Feb. 14, from 2 to 4 p.m. The project is being sponsored in Galion by the BPW club.

The club budget was presented by Helen Donnenworth, finance chairman, and was unanimously adopted.

Radio and Television committee composed of Marguerite Dorian, Eloise Rhodebeck, Aurelia Brown, Violet Dickart and Norman Murphy, and the emblem and federation committee, composed of Florence Tuttle, Maxine Zuber and Jane McCartney, had charge of arrangements for the meeting.

PARIS' ANSWER TO LA RUSSELL. She's Giselle Robert, termed France's answer to Jane Russell. Giselle, shown in Paris in a scene from musical "In Jamaica," is nearly six feet tall, weighs 140, and, said one critic, "The whole audience trembled every time this huge vamp came on stage." The gimmick is that the French ordinarily like their stage queens soft and feminine, but Giselle became a success overnight. "When I finish the dance," she said, "I have to keep lying down on the stage. If I get up, everyone sees my figure and they all start cheering and yelling for more."

Federal Mail Charge Faced By Man Here

A West Mansfield man is being held in the Marion city jail today charged with petty larceny and facing possible federal charges of stealing and fraudulently cashing a government check.

James Hornsby, 21, was arrested by city police at 12:44 p.m. Friday at Main and Center Sts. on a warrant signed by Charles Halladay of 131 Plymouth St. He charged Hornsby stole an electric fan, an electric iron, and $5 cash from his home while living there as a roomer. Total value of the stolen property including the cash was $25, Halladay claimed.

About an hour before Hornsby's arrest on this charge, police were called to the residence of Virgil Saunders at 707 Bennett St. He told them a government check for $50 was taken from his mailbox sometime Friday morning and named Hornsby as a possible suspect.

He was given no hearing in Municipal Court this morning on the petty larceny charges pending possible filing of more serious federal charges by postal authorities.

Mother Charged With Neglect After Children Start Fire

A Marion mother today was charged in Marion County Juvenile Court with neglect of her minor children as a result of a fire at her residence Tuesday morning.

The fire broke out at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bostic at 217 N. Greenwood St. at 11:29 a.m. Tuesday while the three young boys apparently were alone in the house.

The charges filed in juvenile court accuse Mrs. Bostic with leaving the children alone in the house without proper parental care and guidance.

Firemen investigating the blaze, which caused estimated damage of $20, said apparently one of the three boys, Melvin Eugene, 4, Douglas Wayne, 3, and Craig Anthony, 2, was playing with matches in an upstairs room and set a chair on fire. The blaze then spread to some linoleum on the floor but did little other damage.

At that time, Mrs. Bostic said she had gone downtown but thought a baby sitter was coming to stay with the children. Her husband, Paul a taxicab driver, was passing the house and noticed smoke coming from the window. He turned in the alarm and got the children out of the room where the fire started. Date for hearing on the charges has not yet been determined.

agreement on Korea," he said. "What they really want is a Far Eastern conference in which those countries with ideas of neutralism will be represented."

Both India and Indonesia are considered to be in that category. Burma also would lean toward the "neutral" side.

Observers see these three main Russian objectives in such a conference.

1. To bring into the open known differences among the Western democracies, especially on a joint policy toward Red China.

2. To delay restoration of Japan's strength so it will be a weak point in the pattern of power in the Far East.

3. To revive charges that the Western nations maintain their alleged desire to restore the "colonial system" in the Far East.

Rhee

Pierre Mendes-France charged last night in a speech at Vernon that Foreign Minister George Bidault is begging Mao Tze-tung, the Red Chinese leader, to stop backing the Vietminh.

Mendes-France demanded that France negotiate a truce directly with Ho Chi Minh, the Vietminh chief.

In Paris, French officials and those of the invaded kingdom of Laos said there is no foundation for reports that the Laotian government had asked for the ROK troops.

In this connection, the South Korean defense minister, Sohn Won Il, said in Seoul his nation is prepared to send land, sea and air forces to help the French. He said they would be volunteers.

Diplomatic officials in Washington were inclined to discount another South Korean proposal—that U. S. Gen. James A. Van Fleet come out of retirement to train both ROK and Indochinese troops. Van Fleet commanded the 8th Army in Korea during the build-up of the ROK's 16 divisions.

Recent moves by Rhee—including the troop offer—were regarded as efforts to underline persisting South Korean unhappiness over the division of Korea at roughly the 38th Parallel.

Kohler Appointed Lecturer at OWU

Paul W. Kohler, vice president of the Howard Swink Advertising Agency, has been appointed a lecturer in journalism at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware.

An advertising man for the past 17 years, Kohler began teaching the course in advertising at the start of the current semester.

Before he entered the advertising field, Kohler taught English and journalism at high schools in Ashtabula Harbor, Mansfield and South Euclid. Later he served with the sales and advertising departments of Westinghouse Electric Corp. He joined the Swink Agency in 1946.

A 1932 graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, he holds the M.A. degree from Ohio State University. He is married and has three children.

Women Voters To Work For City Kindergartens

The Marion League of Women Voters' kindergarten study committee met Friday afternoon to discuss plans for working toward the goal of public kindergartens, which are under consideration by the board of education.

Committee members, who met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Clauer, chairman, decided to again contact the several groups wich assisted with this study last year. These groups include the Child Conservation Clubs, Junior Service Guild, and City PTA Council. Other interested organizations will be contacted also.

Serving on Mrs. Clauer's committee are Mrs. Robert Fay, Mrs. Walter Sinden, and Mrs. Francis Wanda.

RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

UPPER SANDUSKY — Robert Shambaugh and Wayne Schindler, both of near Upper Sandusky, are recovering in Wyandot Memorial Hospital where they were taken following an accident Wednesday at the Stoll Casket Co. north of Upper Sandusky. The two were riding in a freight elevator at the plant when a cable separated, dropping the elevator nearly 20 feet. Shambaugh was thrown completely out of the elevator and suffered a fractured left ankle, back injuries and numerous lacerations and contusions. Schindler, while suffering no broken bones, was cut about the face and head and is being X-rayed for possible internal injuries.

Harding Sinks Fostoria 78-76 in Overtime Struggle

Prexy Sharpshooters Take First Buckeye League Win

By GARY SAMS

Harding's sharp-shooting Prexies battled from behind in the final stanza to edge Fostoria 78-76 in overtime in a Buckeye League clash at the Harding gym last night.

Trailing by as much as nine points in the last quarter, the Prexies began to close the gap with four and one-half minutes left, tying the score with 51 seconds left.

First in League

It marked Harding's first Buckeye League win of the season after seven straight league reversals and avenged an earlier 79-43 loss to the Redmen at Fostoria.

A rebound shot by Dave Schnelker at the 1:44 mark of the overtime period put Harding ahead for beeps. With Harding stalling, Bob Hamor was fouled as he reached for a pass and he dropped in the second free throw for a 77-74 advantage with only 59 seconds remaining.

Fostoria narrowed the count to 77-76 10 seconds later when Bob Goddard pumped in a long shot but Harding stalled out the win. Doug Bibler adding insurance by dropping in his second charity toss with 36 seconds left for the two-point margin.

The locals put on their winning drive with slightly over three minutes remaining in the final quarter. Jim Arwood put Fostoria out front 72-67 at the 3:12 mark on a lay-up but then Harding started to roll.

Two successive fielders by Bibler narrowed Fostoria's lead to 72-71 before the visitors went into a stall with slightly over two minutes left. Hubert Landers dribbled the ball in midcourt for over a minute before his pass to a teammate in the key was intercepted by Ron Conroy. Schnelker's lay-up shortly later at the :53 mark shoved Harding ahead 73-72.

Fostoria came right back to jump out front 74-73 on Landers' lay-up with but 57 seconds remaining but Bibler's free throw with 51 seconds left deadlocked the score at 74-74. Fostoria controlled the ball for the rest of the tilt. Its last shot came with but two seconds remaining banking off the rim.

Hit 46 Per Cent

The Prexies turned in their best shooting performance of the season, connecting on 28 of 61 attempts from the field for a glittering 46 per cent, and backed it up with 22 free throws made from 31 attempts.

That offset the heavy scoring of Arwood and Landers for the losers. Each pumped in 26 points to account for 52 of the Redmen's total 76 points.

Fostoria sunk 20 of 28 attempts from charity circle from the 19 personal fouls called against Harding. A total of 21 fouls were charged against Fostoria. Only man to leave the contest via the foul route was Max Kaelber of Harding. He contacted his fifth personal at 7:44 of the final quarter after dropping in 10 points for the locals.

The taller Redmen were equally as impressive from the floor. Fostoria hit on the same number of field goals as Harding, 28, in 67 attempts for 42 per cent.

There were four ties and the lead changed hands thrice in the first quarter before Harding spurted into its largest bulge of the game, 16-9, on Schnelker's rebound shot and charity toss at the 3:02 mark. Fostoria fought back to regain the lead at the quarter 19-18 on a pair of foul shots with six seconds remaining by Bill Neikirk.

Harding tied the score twice early in the second period before assuming 26-21 and 28-23 edges on foul shots by Hamor but Fostoria finally caught up, tying the score twice before going out front 34-33 and increasing its margin to 37-34 at intermission.

A hook shot by Hamor at the 7:06 mark of the third period

shoved Harding ahead 38-37 but they never led again until the final two minutes of the final stanza.

Hamor, Bibler High

Hamor and Bibler were high for Harding with 18 points each. Schnelker added 16 while Kaelber and Conroy each hit for 10.

Harding's reserves notched an easy 67-40 win in the preliminary as Paul Bender pumped in 15 points. Chuck Jackson was high for the losers with 13.

In another preliminary contest, the Harding sophomores trimmed an all-star team composed of players from Edison, Taft and Eber Baker Junior High Schools, 40-23. Jones totaled 17 points for the winners.

BENEFIT FIGHTS SLATED

GALION — Eight bouts are on a benefit boxing show card at the junior high school gymnasium Tuesday night. This will be the fourth annual March of Dimes benefit show sponsored by the boys' physical education department of Galion High School and is in charge of Dick Kerin, physical education instructor. Each bout will be three two-minute rounds, starting at 8 p.m. Kerin will referee. Charles Aplas is timer and the judges will be Kenneth Jones and Harold Friar.

Bowling

Gene Mull fired games of 229, 202 and 181 for a 612 series to show the way in the Independent League at Palace Recreation last night. A total of 13 games of 200 or better were posted. Tanner Decorating with 974-2744 led the teams.

Lee Kirby's 209-576 led keglers in the Marion Recreation League. Team honors went to Old Dutch with 842 and C & O No. 1 with 2398.

E. Drumm hit 237 while D. Owens totaled 596 for laurels in the Commercial League. A total of 28 series of 500 or better and 17 games of 200 or over were recorded. Owens' high series came on games of 218, 203 and 175. N. Sanders hit for games of 213, 200 and 172 for a 585 series while B. Messenger hit a 581 series on games of 200, 182, and 199. McMillen Feed Mills with 964-2678 led the teams.

A 211 by Bennett and 531 by Thornberry showed the way in the City League. Parish Marathon fired 840-2381 for team honors.

Mid-American Reverses Rule For Kent State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mid-American Conference Commissioner David Reese today found himself in the paradoxical position of being overruled by its council members and liking it.

Reese, from Dayton, had forfeited Kent State University victories over Marshall and Western Reserve because Kent State players appeared in high school alumni games in violation of conference rules.

The council yesterday gave the wins back to Kent State. Said Commissioner Reese:

"The action by the council was exactly what I wanted and had hoped for." He explained his reaction this way:

"There was nothing I could do, under the rules, except declare the games forfeited. At the same time I felt the intent of the rule, adopted last August, did not include high school alumni games. So the action of the council leaves me deeply satisfied."

The council, after overriding Reese, changed the rule to allow members of conference teams to participate in one high school alumni game each season.

In other action, the council decided the eight conference schools should round-robin home-and-home basketball games as soon as possible. Western Michigan, Toledo, Kent State, Western Reserve, Bowling Green, Ohio University, Miami and Marshall are members of the loop.

Six of the schools, Reese said, already have such an arrangement for next season. Kent State and Bowling Green are the exceptions.

Reese announced he has received membership "feelers" from the University of Louisville. He said, however, no formal application had been received from the school and no action has been taken yet.

Elm Valley Takes Runner-Up Place

ASHLEY—Elm Valley, avenging an earlier season loss, dropped Big Walnut 53-43 here last night in a Delaware County League contest. The win ended Elm Valley's season and gave it a 4-4 mark in league play good for second spot.

Elm Valley clinched the victory in the final period after Big Walnut pulled to within a point of the victors at the three-quarter mark, 39-38. Elm Valley led 12-9 in the first quarter and 25-20 at halftime.

It was a rough contest, with Big Walnut losing Popplar, Day and Wilson on fouls and Elm Valley saying goodbye to John Humes in the first minute of the third quarter.

Humes led the winners' attack with 16 points while Eugene Borden added 14 and Walt Borchers 13. Dave Popplar, 6-5 center, was tops for the losers with 11 points.

Elm Valley came out on top in the reserve clash 53-46.

Scioto Valley Ends Radnor Win String

RADNOR — Scioto Valley snapped Radnor's four-game winning streak at Ostrander last night, 51-41, before a capacity homecoming crowd. The tilt ended closed Radnor's regular season.

Radnor came from a 13 point deficit to within three points of the winners with two and a half minutes left but Scioto Valley spurted to cement the win. It clinched at least second spot for Scioto Valley in the Delaware County cage League.

The winners jumped ahead 10-7 in the opening period and by halftime had increased their margin to 23-18. After three quarters, Radnor trailed 36-26.

Charlie Gray with 12 and Don Maxwell with 11 paced the Radnor attack. Howison was high for the winners with 23, Scioto Valley carved out a 37—25 win in the preliminary reserve contest.

Meeker, Martel Defeated; Green Camp Also Dropped

By FRED THOMAS

Prospect, Caledonia and Waldo scored victories in the Marion County basketball tournament before 1472 fans at the Coliseum last night to join Morral, Claridon and LaRue in the tourney quarterfinals.

Waldo ousted Martel, 49-32, in the opener and Caledonia edged Meeker, 42-38, in consolation games. Prospect topped Green Camp, 72-57, despite a 25-point scoring burst by Panther Lou Finch, in a championship game.

Next Session Tuesday

The teams rest until Tuesday night when play resumes with Caledonia facing Green Camp, Morral meeting Claridon and Prospect battling LaRue.

Meeker's fourth period rally, reminiscent of its comeback win over New Bloomington Wednesday night, fell short as Caledonia scored four free throws in the final minute to break a 38-38 tie. No more than four points separated the teams at any time in one of the tourney's tightest games.

Meeker moved to an 8-6 first quarter lead with Caledonia hitting only once from the field. Both teams loosened up in the second period and the half ended 21-21 as Meeker's Bob Johnson netted a field goal from near mid-court as the buzzer sounded.

Ervin Hunt's four points and Doug Whiteamire's rebounding moved Caledonia ahead, 31-27, after three periods. Coach Len Walls pulled Hunt and Bob Dickerson, both with four fouls, after the quarter, and Meeker came within one point, 33-32 with six and a half minutes left.

Score Knotted

Ron Newland's lay-up tied the score at 34-all after both teams had failed to score for three minutes. Meeker's Larry Sims, who had seven points, injured his side in a scramble and left the game with three minutes to play.

A pair of free throws by Ron Griffin moved Meeker ahead, 36-34, but Joe Green's set shot and a lay-up by Hunt put the Donians back on top. Newland's tip-in tied the game at 38-38 with a minute left.

Green and Gene Rice scored on free throws and Caledonia led 40-38 with 18 seconds remaining. Meeker's Howard Dean tallied a field goal with four seconds left but he was fouled before shooting, nullifying the basket. Dean missed both charity attempts and Paul Layman cinched the Caledonia victory with two free throws as the game ended.

Caledonia's Hunt and Meeker's Griffin tied for scoring honors with 12 points each.

Bulldogs Roll

Tom Hickman and Bob Rodgers each scored 21 points for Prospect as the Bulldogs had to battle all the way to beat Green Camp, 72-57. Hickman dumped in 18 of his points in the second half, 10 after the Panthers had pulled within four points, 49-45, in the fourth period.

Lou Finch connected on nine field goals and seven free throws to pace Green Camp. Green Camp's Hal Wasserbeck and George Rush and Prospect's Ron Wood also hit double figures. Wasserbeck getting 14, Rush 10 and Wood 15.

Rodgers' rebounding and scoring jumped the Bulldogs to 17-8 first quarter lead. Prospect hiked its margin to 32-20 at halftime as Wood scored 7 points in the second period.

With Finch and Wasserbeck hitting from the field, Green Camp stormed back to a 49-41 deficit after three periods. The Panther's double-teamed Rodger's effectively, cutting down Prospect's scoring.

Two free throws by Rush and Wasserbeck's jump shot closed the gap to 49-45 but after that it was all Prospect. With Hickman hitting on tip-ins, the Bulldogs scored seven points in one minute and nine straight points before Green Camp could tally.

The Bulldogs hiked their lead to 65-49 and coasted in although Green Camp cut the margin to 67-57 with two minutes left.

Coach Ralph Weber used his second and third stringers more than half the way as Waldo ousted Martel's winless Eagles, 49-32. Martel's Ken Barden topped the scoring with 17 points while Don Yake's paced the winners.

Waldo jumped to 9-1, 11-2 and 15-5 leads in the first quarter with Keith Augenstein directing the attack. The winners increased their lead to 23-6 in the second period and Weber sent in his substitutes who played until the last two minutes.

Martel was held to one field goal in the first half which ended 31-20. he Eagles rallied in the second half as Barden scored 12 of his 12 points.

Trailing 41-19 after three periods, Martel moved up to 44-30 with Barden and Dale Linstedt scoring. Four of Waldo's regulars returned for the final two minutes.

Hoosiers Selected For All-Star Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Leonard, Charley Kraak and Dick Farley, three stars of Indiana's defending National Collegiate basketball champions, were the first selections today for the West squad in the Herald Tribune's eighth annual East-West college basketball game at Madison Square Garden March 27.

The trio helped Indiana win the NCA title last year and are mainstays of the current Hoosier team, which is leading the Big Ten race and is ranked third in the country in the A.P. pool with a 15-1 record.

Ossie Cowles, Minnesota coach will coach the West team and Howard Cann of New York University the East.

All-America Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos, Kentucky's potent threesome, are the only players picked so far for the East team.

Dee Apologizes For Attack on Kentucky Pilot

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Both basketball Coach Johnny Dee and Athletic Director Pete Cawthon of Alabama have expressed regret for publicity given a telegram by Dee criticizing Kentucky's Adolph Rupp.

Both communicated last night with Athletic Director Bernie Shively of Kentucky and said Shively was satisfied with their explanation of the affair.

Dee said he was "very much upset" because a Cincinnati Post sports writer gave publicity to what he called a "personal telegram."

Dee was quoted as saying he was thinking of quitting the game altogether because he had to associate with Rupp, coach of Kentucky's basketball powerhouse.

Rupp declined comment.

The story touched off the loudest uproar in the career of the bright young Southeastern Conference coach. Dee is a former Notre Dame star who so far this year has guided the Crimson quintet to a record of 12 victories and five defeats.

Dee criticized Rupp last Saturday for reportedly saying that playing Georgia's weak quintet was "as ridiculous as kissing your sister." Rupp declared he was misquoted.

Called 'Carnival Operator'

Hemmerling Hurls Charge At Troy General Manager

Ken Wilson, general manager of the Troy Bruins hockey club, was the target of an attack today by Tony Hemmerling, head man of the Marion Barons.

Hemmerling termed Wilson a "carnival operator" upon learning the Bruins had completed a player trade with the homeless Louisville Stars. The trade apparently was a last-ditch attempt by Wilson to land his Bruins in an International Hockey League playoff spot.

Wilson was chosen by league officials to serve as general manager of the Louisville club in addition to his Troy duties when the Kentucky squad couldn't finish the season because of financial troubles. Wilson has grabbed up Louisville's goal tender, Al Bennett, in a trade for Juhan Klymkiw, who had the highest goals against average in the league. In addition he has added Ray Marshall, Louisville center, to the Troy club.

Hemmerling today said, "This last move is typical of Wilson who is always crying about the 'big league mercenaries on the Cincinnati and Marion clubs.'" Marion has a working agreement with the Cleveland Barons in the American Hockey League while Cincinnati is part of the Montreal Canadians' farm system.

The Marion general manager went on to say, "He had just as good a chance to sign up a strong club in training camp as Burt Kramer of Johnstown and Andy Mulligan of Toledo, both of whom operate independent clubs."

Troy plays at Fort Wayne tonight with sixth spot in the league standings at stake. Sixth place is the last team to qualify for the playoffs.

Marion's Barons travel to Grand Rapids tonight and will return home Sunday afternoon for a meeting with the highly-improved Milwaukee Chiefs.

St. Louis Stars Sign Contracts, Rookies Begin

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' advance spring training camp is open today and their 1954 salary worries are pretty much of a closed question.

At about the time a squad of 75 rookies began limbering up at Deland, Fla., star second baseman Red Schoendienst and Ray Jablonski, rookie third baseman of 1953, reached for pens to sign new contracts in the Cardinal offices in St. Louis. Harvey Haddix, the Redbirds top hurler last year with a 17-7 won-lost mark and 3.06 earned run average, had agreed to terms earlier in the day.

The Milwaukee Braves, meanwhile, admitted shortstop Johnny Logan and second baseman Jack Dittmer were something less than happy about their proffered contracts. General Manager John Quinn pointed out the pair can't be classed as holdouts unless and until they fail to report March 1.

Schoendienst, Jablonski and Haddix were by far the biggest names in the comparatively small group of major leaguers to come to terms with the clubs yesterday.

Schoendienst, the National League's second leading hitter in 1953 with an average of .342, said he was "well satisfied" with a salary increase which reportedly brought his pay close to the $50,000 bracket. He received about $35,000 last season.

Jablonski hit 21 home runs in his first season, two more than Johnny Mize hit as a rookie, and batted in 112 runs. Haddix was believed to have doubled his $7,000 salary of last year.

Mt. Gilead Batters Johnstown Squad

MT. GILEAD—Mt. Gilead rolled by a cold Johnstown squad 78-46 here last night, lowering the losers' season record to 14-4.

Mt. Gilead built up a 35-16 lead in the first half as Johnstown managed only to hit on 14 per cent of its shots. Perking up in the second half, the losers hit on 28 per cent of their shots but Mt. Gilead still increased its margin. The winners had 51 shots in the second half against the smaller visitors.

Ted Moody led the Mt. Gilead attack with 21 markers while John Mosher added 15. No Johnstown player managed to hit in double figures.

Mt. Gilead notched a 37-34 win in the preliminary reserve contest.

Powell, Auburn Township, $60 for two killed and four wounded; and Lorraine Bantzhoff, Tod Township, .0 for one killed. Township, $20 for one killed.

School on Epilepsy Slated in Columbus

COLUMBUS — A regional institute on epilepsy sponsored by the Ohio Society for Crippled Children will be held in Columbus March 19-20 at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

Open to five states — Indiana, Kentucky, West Vriginia, Michigan and Ohio — the institute has as its theme "The Unmet Needs of the Epileptic."

"Constructive adjustment by the patient to this physical handicap depends to a large extent on the attitudes of those who are close to him, and to whome he looks for help," said Mrs. Margaret Davis, secretary of the epilepsy project of the Ohio Society. "Common problems of the epileptic will be disucssed, primarily in the light of the attitudes of members of the professional team concerned with his welfare and what those individuals can do to lead him toward positive adjustment."

NAMED MORROW DIRECTOR

MT. GILEAD — Mrs. Jack Holden of Mt. Gilead has been named director of pupil personnel for the Morrow County schools it was announced this week by county Superintendent of schools T. A. Gantz. She replaces Mrs. Burah Brown who resigned.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q. I would like to know if there is any way to heat a basement We can't afford a lot of money for any expensive undertaking Our home is new and we have oil heat Is there any way we can heat the basement from the oil heater? Someone advised us to cut a hole in the furnace and put a fan in to distribute the heat Do you think that would work?

A. You have failed to advise me if the house is heated by hot water hot air or steam But since you ask about cutting a hole in the furnace and attaching a fan I presume you have hot air heat It would not be advisable to cut a hole as you plan because it may interfere with the flow of heat to the rooms above You would do better by installing an oil or gas-fired space heater in the basement You will then be able to heat the basement only when you desire Be sure the heater is vented to the outdoors.

Q. Our problem concerns plaster that has been heavily smeared on the bathroom tile floor and the bathtub Do you have a leaflet that might help us in removing such smears?

A. Cement or plaster smears on the floor tiles can be removed by scrubbing with muriatic acid Mix one part acid in ten parts of water When mixing it, pour the acid slowly to avoid splashing, and use a wooden pail to hold the solution after two or three minutes scrub apply the solution liberally and after two or three minutes scrub with more of the solution, using a fiber brush (not a wire brush) Rinse well with clear water This treatment however is not suitable on plumbing fixtures such as the tub Strong acids will damage the finish on the bathtub About the best you can do is to try to scrape off these smears with a putty knife, or an old razor blade being careful not to press too hard If the smears are comparatively light, rub carefully with "00" steel wool using very little pressure.

Waterproof Adhesives Help

Moisture Loosens Wall Tiles Poorly Cemented

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

How would you prevent a tiled shower stall from caving in, while in blissful ignorance of modern building practices you enjoy letting the water splash from your back in all directions?

It seems that before the clay tile industry formulated specifications about a year ago for setting tiles with adhesives instead of Portland cement, some home builders figured the buyer would never know what was behind the surface of a wall. So they pasted shower bath tiles on paper backings.

AFTER THE BUILDER'S guarantee expired and a few unnoticeable cracks developed between tiles in the course of natural settlement, water began to soak into walls tiles loosened, fell out and a mildewed mess was revealed.

This was not exactly jerry building. It happened in FHA-approved, VA-approved, building inspector - approved homes costing $25,000 and more in New York's booming Long Island suburbs. And it may be happening in every part of the country where dry-wall construction has been used.

The fault is not in the dry walls, nor in the tiles, nor in the adhesives. It's in the method. It puts a sardonic twist on what builders boast of as their "trade secrets." Who could expect a shower stall, or any other tile work, to stand up when water gets behind tiles pasted to ordinary non-waterproofed building paper with a dab of adhesive about the size of a half-dollar?

WHAT CAN YOU do about it? First and always, wherever water strikes any tilework, keep an eye open for cracks. Excellent adhesives can be purchased in tubes like tooth paste at well stocked hardware stores. There are three general types — black for cementing tiles to a wall, white for use in joints between tiles and tub-calk for sealing the crack that develops between a bathtub and a tile wall.

Use the white type (usually linked with some such word as "magic") to keep water from entering cracks between tiles. Press this adhesive into the crack with a tooth pick, or other suitable small instrument. Follow manufacturers' directions closely. When any excess adhesive has dried, it is easily scraped off with a razor blade without pulling the cement out of the joint.

Tub-calk is similar in appearance but is designed to retain a certain amount of elasticity, since tubs expand and contract and this movement must be allowed for. Cracks around tubs are wider, so this calking is pressed in with a little paddle about the size of half a tongue depresser.

SO MANY subsitute tiles have been developed to meet the do-it-yourself demand, that great strides have been made in adhesives. Watertight adhesives can be trowled on any type of wall. Tiles can be pressed into this backing as easily as playing with dominoes.

Two tile setters were demonstrating this with plastic tile at last fall's Do-It-Yourself Show in Chicago. We asked one of them if an amateur could do as neat a job.

"Certainly," he replied. "Anybody could do it. Just take them a little longer than it takes an experienced tile setter."

PORCELAIN STEEL tiles have seen the development of a patented method of watertight installation. A foundation board, grooved and made of waterproof material, is nailed over existing walls or directly to studs. This provides both automatic alignment for tiles and built-in insulation against sound and temperature. Engineers (for the Porcelain Enamel Products division of the Bettinger Corp., Reheboth, Mass.) have developed a special adhesive and waterproof grout, which they say assures a lasting and repair free installation in ordinary use.

An interesting feature of porcelain steel tiles is that the co-efficient of expansion of porcelain and steel are the same. This prevents cracking, chipping and crazing.

But you can't expect a water tight tile wall with faulty installation.

CARROT CAPER

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UP) — Maybe your carrots came out of a cement mixer! The Ashooh brothers, vegetable producers, removed the baffles from an old electric cement mixer. Their recipe: one pail of water, poured into the mixer; add one bushel of carrots; agitate for five minutes; wrap carrots in cellophane for market.

The smallest bones of the human body are thoses—three in number—located in the middle ear.

CALLED SLAYER. This is Harold Weinberg, 25-year-old dishwasher of Greenwich Village, after his capture by police in New York City in their search for the slayer of poet Maxwell Bodenheim and his third wife, Ruth Fagan. Weinberg was booked on homicide charges after, according to the office of the district attorney, he confessed the killings

Airline Stewardesses Remain Single Longer

CHICAGO (UP)—Airline stewardesses don't shun marriage but they are staying single longer.

According to United Air Lines the average sky girl during the World War II years spent 18 months on the job before being "grounded" by matrimony.

Now, the average length of service before marriage is 29 months, the airline said.

Sixty per cent of the girls are blondes, 36 per cent are brunettes and four per cent are redheads.

Marionites Serve On OSU Alumni Nominating Group

Three Marion alumni of Ohio State University have been named to select nominees for officers for the university alumini association for the coming two years.

Robert T. Mason, manager of radio station WMRN was named chairman of the Scarlet nominating committee and will be assisted by Miss Margery Eymon, Harding High School teacher, and Edwin L. Mitchell, attorney.

Nominating committee for the Gray slate of nominees appointed by A. F. Davis, association president is made up if Frank H. Cortese, chairman, Evelyn B. Voss, and Milton S. Lehman all of the Houston, Tex. alumni club.

By tradition the Scarlet committee is selected from the ranks of clubs within Ohio and the Gray committee from outside the state. Appointment of the nominating committees is moved to different clubs each year.

The committees will each make nominations for four offices. The offices are first and second vice presidents, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors. Election of the officers will then be carried on by ballots mailed throughout the United States and to several foreign lands to all members of the association.

All three of the Marion committeemen are past presidents of the Marion OSU alumni association.

Plant Will Be Closed For Osterholt Services

The Arro Expansion Bolt Co. will be closed Monday afternoon to enable employes to attend funeral services for Mrs. Carrie G. Osterholt, mother of Emmett Osterholt, plant superintendent. The services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. in the Fite Memorial Baptist Church. Rev. Norman D. Renn will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon Ave. after 7:30 tonight until 11 a.m. Monday, then at the church. Mrs. Osterholt, wife of William H. Osterholt of 261 Uncapher Ave., died at home Friday morning.

Court Leaders Trying To Hike Victory Strings

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Five of the nation's highest ranking college basketball teams swing into action tonight with winning streaks totaling 55 games, and they'll be mighty surprised if the streaks don't add up to 60 when all the scores are in.

Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll for weeks, takes a 17-0 mark against Mississippi on the Wildcats home court, where they haven't lost in more than a decade.

Oklahoma A & M also goes to work with 17 straight, dating back to a December loss to Minnesota, and the Aggies figure to make it 18 against Oklahoma. A & M, ranked fourth in the country, whipped the Sooners 65-48 earlier in the season.

La Salle, No. 7 team, also hasn't lost since December and their winning streak should reach an even dozen tonight against Temple, a team the Explorers whipped 77-53 a few weeks ago.

Indiana is another team which hasn't lost this year—meaning 1954, and the third-ranked Hoosiers will have a sellout crowd on hand in the Northwestern field house as they go for their tenth straight Leading the Big Ten with an 8-0 mark, the Hoosiers will be listening for the score from Minneapolis, where Iowa (7-1) will face Minnesota (6-2).

Western Kentucky, No. 5 team, is the other top ranker in action. The Hilltoppers boasted the longest winning streak in the country, 21 games, until being upset by Eastern Kentucky last week. They came back to start a new one against Morehead Monday night and Murray State, a 57-43 victim earlier, should double the streak.

Two other members of the top 10 stretched modest win skeins last night. Holy Cross, No. 9, won its sixth in a row since a loss to sixth-ranked Notre Dame as they turned back Fordham 68-54. George Washington, No. 10, clinched first place in the Southern Conference race by walloping Washington & Lee 108-63 for their fifth consecutive victory.

Duquesne, second ranked Seattle, eighth, and Notre Dame are idle this week-end.

Bradley's Dick Estergard set a new school record by scoring 33 points in his school's 97-90 victory over Marquette.

Dartmouth moved up to a tie for fifth place in the Eastern League by cuffing last place Brown 68-64.

Oregon State, led by towering Swede Halbrook, who made 20 points, took over first place in the Pacific Coast Conference's northern division by whaling Washington 70-47 while Idaho was trimming Oregon 68-54.

Morrow Loop Season Closes

MT. GILEAD — Morrow County League basketball action concluded last night with Sparta decisioning Edison 63-56, Iberia whacking Marengo 70-35; and Chesterville downing Cardington 70-60.

Action left Chesterville atop the standings with an 11-1 mark, followed by Iberia and Johnsville both with 9-3 marks, Sparta at 6-6, Cardington and Edison, both at 4-8, and Marengo with 0-12, and prepared the squads for the approaching Morrow County tournament.

Marengo managed to keep pace with Iberia for the first quarter, trailing only 16-15, but the winners gained ground the rest of the way. There were a total of 70 foul shots in the game, with Iberia sinking 28 of 42 attempts Walt Chambers with 21 points, Ed Stall with 14, Howard Miller with 13 and Don Robinson with 11 led the Iberia attack. Flannery notched 13 points for the losers. Iberia's reserves completed an undefeated season in the preliminary, rolling to a 44-31 in for their 18th straight of the season.

Sparta led most of the way in downing Edison. There were a total of 92 foul shots taken in the game, with Edison sinking 22 of 52 attempts and Sparta 19 of 40 Larry Hulse led the Sparta offensive with 18 points while Bob Casto and Ralph Sears each contributed 12. Floyd Hawk pumped in 13 points for the losers while Darryl Wren added 12 and Dick Weston and Floyd Seitz each added 10. Edison's reserves won 51-31.

Chesterville came from behind to defeat Cardington. The losers had jumped off to an 18-7 bulge in the first quarter but Chesterville came back to cut the margin to 34-27 at halftime and go ahead 53-42 at the three-quarter mark. Morris James totaled 17 points for the winners while Cliff Perkins notched 16 and Wayne Nauman 12. John Sellars with 17 and Ralph King with 15 topped the Cardington scoring. Chesterville copped the reserve tilt 40-32.

Galion Cagers Win At Upper Sandusky

UPPER SANDUSKY—With Tom Quay pumping in 35 points, a visiting squad of Galion cagers dumped Upper Sandusky 71-59 here last night in a Northern Ohio League contest.

The 6-3 center's total came on 12 field gials and 11 free throws. Don Sharrock supported him with 16 points for the winners.

The Galion win left both quintets with 2-3 marks in NOL play, with Upper Sandusky owning a 6-7 mark for the season and Galion a 6-8 slate.

Dave McClain was tops for the losers with 26 points while Mike Reile added 17. Galion won the reserve contest 31-28. Both squads entertain Bucyrus here next Friday.

WE OFFER A ONCE-IN-A-LIFETIME OPPORTUNITY

Four years ago the DICTOGRAPH CORPORATION a name famous in American industry for more than fifty years, opened a new division Since that time, more than 100 additional offices have been opened throughout the nation, and more than 2,000 men have found the career for which they had been looking all their lives.

Now we are again expanding our existing operations in northern Ohio, and we are offering men of caliber a chance that comes only once in a lifetime. You must have a car, but because of our intensive training program, we will be much more interested in appearance and personality than in experience.

If selected, you will be trained at company headquarters school for 3 days at FULL COMPANY EXPENSE and then assigned to a sales force in the Richland, Ashland, Crawford, Morrow, Wyandot counties area where immediate average commission earnings will EXCEED $150 WEEKLY and in some cases go as high as $25,000 yearly.

A luncheon will be held at 1 o'clock Sunday, February 14th at the Mansfield-Leland Hotel, Mansfield, Ohio, at which time the whole program will be discussed in detail.

We cordially invite you to be our guest at lunch to investigate this opportunity which may be the turning point in your life.

If, for reason of confidence or inconvenience, you cannot attend, you may call our office, Elyria 2056 between 10 a m and 1 p m Monday

OH, ANDY.. YOU'RE SO POETIC.
THIS BRINGS ME BACK IN MEMORY TO OUR HONEYMOON SO MANY YEARS AGO.
YEARS AGO, NOTHING... WE'RE STILL ON OUR HONEYMOON.
YOU'RE RIGHT, DEAREST.... OUR ATTITUDE TOWARD EACH OTHER HASN'T CHANGED A BIT...
WELL, I WOULDN'T EXACTLY SAY THAT. I USED TO CATCH YOU IN MY ARMS... NOW, I CATCH YOU IN MY POCKETS.

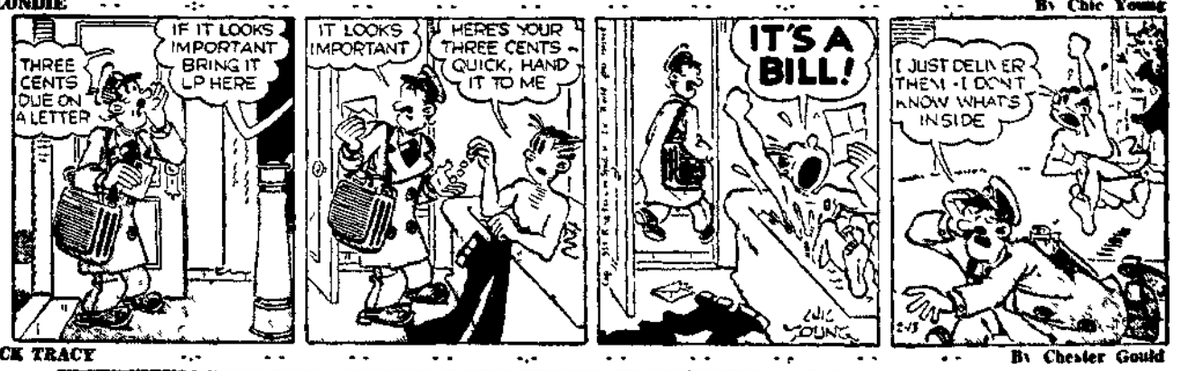
STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

NICE GOING, CANDY CANYON! THE SINISTER PACKAGE OF 'HEROIN' TURNS OUT TO ACTUALLY BE SUGAR.. AND I AM THE SYRUP-HEAD OF THE YEAR
SO I'LL HAVE TO CALL ON HERSELF MULDOON AND TRY TO SCARE UP ANOTHER ANGLE TO PIN DOPE SMUGGLING ON INDASIA AIR.
AND AS STEVE DRIVES UP IN A TAXI AT THE GATE TO HERSELF MULDOON'S ESTATE .
FOR LAST TIME I TELL YOU — MADAME MULDOON SAY YOU GO AWAY!
DON'T HIT ME AGAIN — I'LL GO
MILTON CANIFF

THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

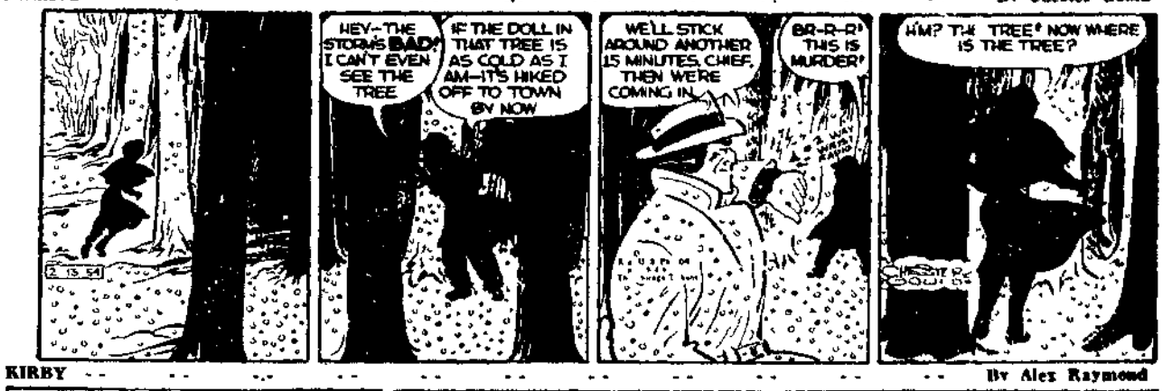
EVE! HEY WHERE'D YOU AND RANDY DISAPPEAR TO? DID YOU LIKE HIM? MY DATE WAS DIVINE PERFECTLY HEAVENLY!
I JUST CAN'T WAIT TO ENTER HERE NEXT YEAR EVE — DID SOMETHING GO WRONG THIS EVENING?
NOT THIS EVENING — BUT EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO — THE DAY I WAS BORN INTO THE STONE-BROKE JONES FAMILY!

BLONDIE By Chic Young



THREE CENTS DUE ON A LETTER
IF IT LOOKS IMPORTANT BRING IT UP HERE
IT LOOKS IMPORTANT
HERE'S YOUR THREE CENTS — QUICK, HAND IT TO ME
IT'S A BILL!
I JUST DELIVER THEM - I DON'T KNOW WHAT'S INSIDE

DICK TRACY By Chester Gould

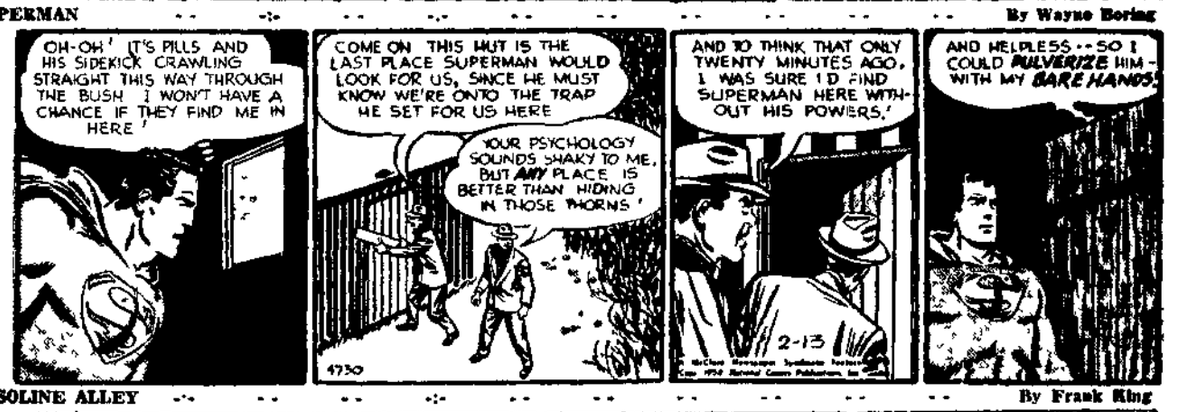


HEY-THE STORM'S BAD! I CAN'T EVEN SEE THE TREE
IF THE DOLL IN THAT TREE IS AS COLD AS I AM—IT'S HIKED OFF TO TOWN BY NOW
WE'LL STICK AROUND ANOTHER 15 MINUTES, CHIEF, THEN WE'RE COMING IN.
BR-R-R! THIS IS MURDER!
HM? THE TREE? NOW WHERE IS THE TREE?

RIP KIRBY By Alex Raymond

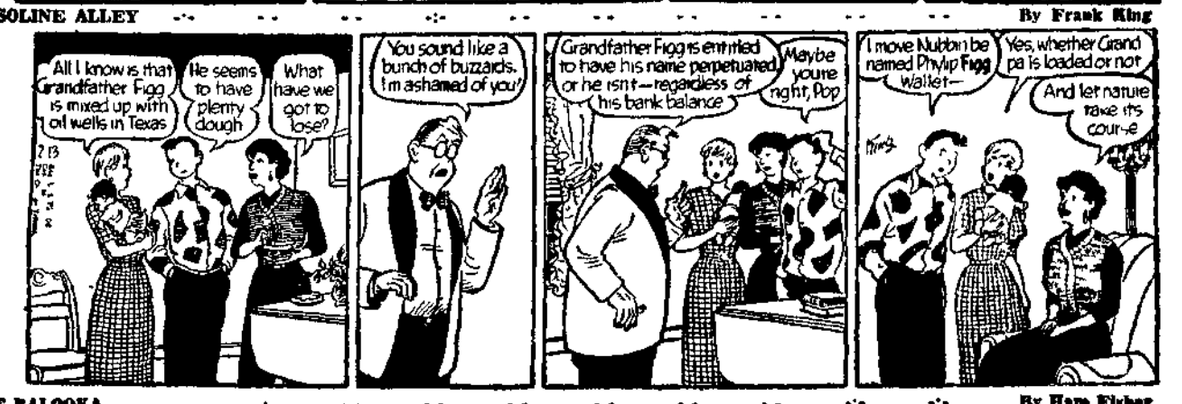
WITH BATESS BODY FOUND WE'RE IN TROUBLE!
OH!
JENNY TOLD ME EVERYTHING, MR HASKIN WHAT CAN WE DO?
THERE'S STILL A CHANCE I CAN SQUARE THIS NOBODY WILL EVER MOURN BUNCO BATES
IN A FAR-OFF HIDEOUT
I ACCEPT - AFTER ALL, HOW MANY GUYS HAVE TO HOLD THEIR OWN WAKE?
HOW ABOUT ONE ON THE HOUSE MR BATES?

SUPERMAN By Wayne Boring



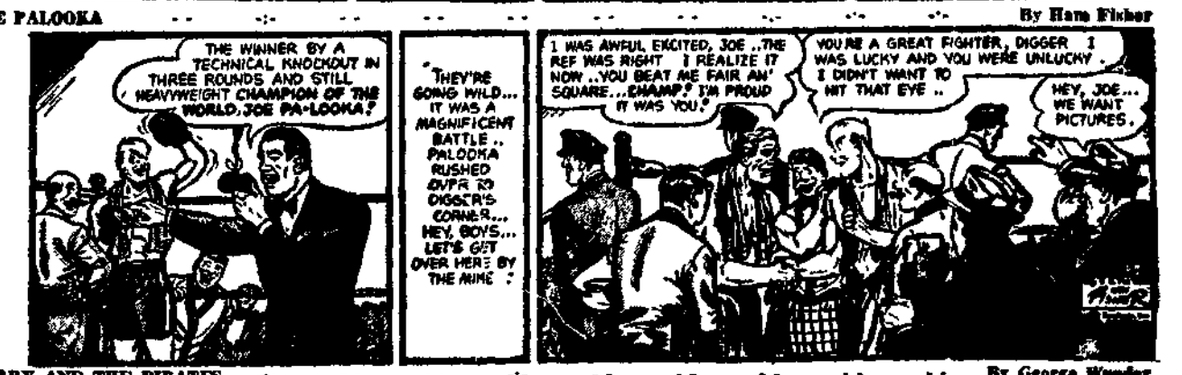
OH-OH! IT'S PILLS AND HIS SIDEKICK CRAWLING STRAIGHT THIS WAY THROUGH THE BUSH I WON'T HAVE A CHANCE IF THEY FIND ME IN HERE!
COME ON THIS HUT IS THE LAST PLACE SUPERMAN WOULD LOOK FOR US, SINCE HE MUST KNOW WE'RE ONTO THE TRAP HE SET FOR US HERE
YOUR PSYCHOLOGY SOUNDS SHAKY TO ME, BUT ANY PLACE IS BETTER THAN HIDING IN THOSE THORNS!
AND TO THINK THAT ONLY TWENTY MINUTES AGO, I WAS SURE I'D FIND SUPERMAN HERE WITHOUT HIS POWERS.
AND HELPLESS -- SO I COULD PULVERIZE HIM - WITH MY BARE HANDS!

GASOLINE ALLEY By Frank King



All I know is that Grandfather Figg is mixed up with oil wells in Texas
He seems to have plenty dough
What have we got to lose?
You sound like a bunch of buzzards. I'm ashamed of you!
Grandfather Figg is entitled to have his name perpetuated or he isn't — regardless of his bank balance
Maybe you're right, Pop
I move Nubbin be named Phylip Figg Wallet —
Yes, whether Grandpa is loaded or not
And let nature take its course

JOE PALOOKA By Hans Fisher



THE WINNER BY A TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT IN THREE ROUNDS AND STILL HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION OF THE WORLD, JOE PA-LOOKA!
"THEY'RE GOING WILD... IT WAS A MAGNIFICENT BATTLE.. PALOOKA RUSHED OVER TO DIGGER'S CORNER... HEY, BOYS... LET'S GET OVER HERE BY THE RING!"
I WAS AWFUL EXCITED, JOE .. THE REF WAS RIGHT I REALIZE IT NOW .. YOU BEAT ME FAIR AN' SQUARE... CHAMP! I'M PROUD IT WAS YOU!
YOU'RE A GREAT FIGHTER, DIGGER I WAS LUCKY AND YOU WERE UNLUCKY. I DIDN'T WANT TO HIT THAT EYE ..
HEY, JOE... WE WANT PICTURES.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES By George Wunder

ANNIE ROONEY By Darrell McClure

IT'S ABOUT TIME YOU GOT HERE!
WELL GOSH, MINNIE - YOU TOLD ME TO BE CAREFUL AN' NOT LET NOBODY FOLLOW ME -
NOW I GET THE PITCH — I PICK UP ANNIE - JUMP INTO THE CAR AN'-- HOW WRONG CAN YOU BE??!
THERE'S A POLICEMAN'S UNIFORM IN THIS BAG — LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY WILL BE AT THE YOUNG CARETAKERS HOME TOMORROW - WEAR THE UNIFORM AND PARK NEAR THE HOUSE —
A COP'S UNIFORM? OH, NO!
I GOT TO GET HOME BEFORE MY OLD LADY GETS WISE — I'LL TELL YOU WHAT TO DO TOMORROW — AT FIVE O'CLOCK SHARP!

Use of Radioactive Gold Helps in Study of Liver

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Doctors, through a new technique of using radioactive gold now can visualize cancer abscesses and cysts within the livers of human beings

The new technique was developed by the University of California at Los Angeles Medical School and Los Angeles Veterans Administration Center doctors

It is based on the ability of certain liver cells to pick up and retain 80 to 90 per cent of colloidal gold injected intravenously

A sensitive instrument known as scintillation counter registers gamma radiation from the radio gold and electronically activates a stylus that plots the distribution of radioactivity in the liver

Doctors are able to detect cancer abscesses and cysts because liver cells in those areas are destroyed and appear as blank spots on the picture

SCARF IS "SUMMER FUR"

NEW YORK (UP) — 'Summer fur" is the newest catchy term for scarves to dress up a simple daytime costume. Designer Hattie Carnegie gives the 'summer fur" label to large organza or chiffon scarves worn with simply - cut solid-color spring dresses

2 New Zealand Reptiles Reared Despite Captivity

WELLINGTON N J (UP)—For the first time, the tuatara, unique lizard-like reptile found only in New Zealand has been successfully hatched and reared in captivity

Two of these rare creatures, related to the dinosaurs, and sole survivors of a life-form more than 100 000 000 year old are now thriving at Victoria University College here under the care of W H I Dawbin, lecturer in zoology

Other tuataras have been hatched in captivity but none ever survived for more than a few weeks Thus a systematic study previously has been impossible and authentic information about the tuatara is scant indeed, on some points non existent

Adult Tuataras are about two feet long The reptiles are nocturnal, sleeping during the day in caves or burrows which they often share with sea-birds They eat flies, insects spiders grasshoppers and similar small ground-prey With the onset of winter the tuatara loses appetite and retires to hibernate until spring

News of the Churches

Youths To Lead Service At Presbyterian Church

Westminster Fellowship members of First Presbyterian Church will conduct their Youth Sunday services at morning worship tomorrow. Three young people will speak, James Forsythe on "Whom Shall I Send?" Carol Bachman, "As My Father Hath Sent Me," and Carol Hoch, "So Send I You."

Ben Bechtle will play the organ, and call to worship will be by Noan Shoup. Stanley Franks, vice moderator, will be in charge. Responsive reading will be led by Ruth Mickley, Scripture reading by John Barnhill, and prayer by Judy Dickson.

The Junior Choir will sing an anthem, William Wiley will give offertory prayer, and the Youth Choir will present an anthem, preceding the talks, and benediction will be followed by choral response. Young men of the congregation will serve as ushers. Miss Helen May is the adult advisor.

Calvary EUB

"The Flame," documentary and dramatic sound and color film of Korea, will be shown at Calvary EUB Church Sunday night. A sequel to the missionary picture "38th Parallel," it was made by Rev. Bob Pierce, "missionary-statesman" who was an accredited United Nations war correspondent during the Korean conflict and was "privileged to record scenes normally denied average cameramen overseas." Shown are front-line combat views and behind-the-lines devastation.

Following the service, the Youth Fellowship will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Scharer. For morning worship service the special anthem will be "The Deeps of My Soul," Adams. On Monday night, officers and teachers will attend the leadership training classes at Greenwood Church. Midweek service Wednesday night will be in preparation for the union evangelistic campaign of the EUB Churches to be held at Oakland Church, beginning Feb. 22. The Married People's Class will have a potluck supper at the Fred Dutt home on Thursday at 6:30 p.m., and the Emma Berger Class will meet on Thursday night. Delegates from the church will attend the Men's Congress of the Ohio Sandusky Conference next Saturday and on Sunday at Findlay.

EUB Training Class Set

Third in a series of Evangelical United Brethren training classes in Marion will be held Monday night at Greenwood EUB Church for teachers and officers. The director, Rev. D. H. Hochstettler of Findlay, formerly of Marion, is being assisted in the school by Rev C. R. Wendell of Calvary Church, Rev. H. V. Falor of Oakland Church, Rev. L. E. Ames of First Church, Rev. A. E. Clark of the rural Salem Church and Rev. L. H. Harris of the host church.

Emmanuel Baptist

To observe Boy Scout Week, boys of the organization are invited to attend the evening service of Emmanual Baptist Church tomorrow and sit in a body. The message will be designed to be of help to the boys and it will be on the life of a Bible hero, Joseph, who is interpreted to be a type of Christ as portrayed in the Old Testament. Special recognition will be given the Scouts. The Emmanuel Church pastor, Rev. C. E. Hershey a former Boy Scout leader, holds the Eagle Badge in Scouting. By his morning worship hour message, the pastor will seek to prepare the church members for the coming week of revival services in March.

Epworth Methodist

Epworth Methodist Family Day will be observed tomorrow. A special gathering will be held in the afternoon at Holiday Hill near Delaware beginning at 3 o'clock. This is for families and friends of the church, and a covered dish supper in the evening will precede a vesper period.

For morning worship service at the church, special music will be the anthem, "Deep River," Negro spiritual.

Organizations meeting next week include the Susannah Wesley Circle Monday night, entertained by Mrs. Wesley Ranck. The Sweney Class will meet Tuesday night, and High School Department teachers conference will be Wednesday at 7 p.m. On Thursday, Circle 1 will be entertained by Mrs. John Wesley in the afternoon, the Christian Home Class will meet that night as will the Married People's Class which will have Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Williams as host and hostess.

Central Christian

For morning worship service of Central Christian Church tomorrow, Rev. J. B. Holloway of Trinity Baptist Church will be guest peacher. He will fill the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Ashley Booth, who will be at Mt. Vernon at the denominational young people's meeting. Harold Edwards will lead worship service.

At 2 p.m., the Chi Rho group will hold the annual Valentine party. Meeting of the CYF will not be held.

The official board will meet Monday night. A Father and Son banquet is scheduled for Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. Rev. Joseph Dupuis of Marion, a teacher in the public schools, will be guest speaker. Music will be by Mrs. Goldie Swope. Members of the stewardship committee will meet Thursday night at tthe W. C. Stumbo home.

First EUB

Women of the First EUB Church WSWS will sponsor a World Service Day program at the church in the morning with Capt. Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army as speaker. Prelude by Mrs. Kester Hill will be "Canzonetta," Hollaender. Mrs. Ralph Young will give the call to worship and invocation. Scripture will be read by Mrs. S A. Hill, and Sally Shirk will sing. Dedication of the offering will be by Mrs. R. D. Caldwell following the talk by Capt. Nisiewicz.

During next week, Circle 1 will meet Tuesday night with Mrs. W. E. Hogan as hostess. On Tuesday night, Mrs. Lester Almendinger will entertain Circle 3. Taking part in the meeting will be Mrs. Viola Kelly and Mrs. LaVern Burkepile. The Loyal Workers Class meeting is scheduled for Thursday afternoon, and the Co-Workers Class Thursday night.

Oakland EUB

Baptism of infants and children will be conducted at morning worship service at Oakland EUB Church tomorrow. In observance of Race Relations Sunday, a special sermon will be given. For Youth Fellowship at 6:30 p.m., Miss Doris Brading will review chapters of the missionary book. Officers and teachers will attend the group training school Monday night at Greenwood Church. According to a change of schedule, the Youth Choir will begin practicing on Tuesday at 7 p.m., next week, instead of on Sunday afternoons. The Brotherhood will meet Tuesday night.

Wesley Methodist

In keeping with Race Relations Sunday, a student from Africa, Sam Karmi, native of Kenya, will be guest speaker at the Youth Fellowship meeting of Wesley Methodist Church tomorrow night. On Tuesday night, next week, the Wesleyan Service Guild will be entertained by Allan Welsh.

Prospect St. Methodist

Special music at morning worship of Prospect Street Methodist Church tomorrow will be the choir anthem "Beneath the Cross of Jesus." Members of the Senior Youth Fellowship will attend a sub-district rally in the afternoon at Wesley Church here. Intermediate Fellowship program will begin with recreation at 5 p.m., followed by a "snack supper" served by Mr. and Mrs. Loren Starner and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller. Janet Fairchild will lead discussion on "Who Am I?" at 6:30. During morning worship hour, the Junior Church will meet at the parsonage and a nursery for pre-school children will be conducted in the church basement rooms.

Maranatha Bible

Study at the Bible School of the Maranatha Bible Church tomorrow morning will be in the series of Gospel lessons on the life of Christ. For the Bible Fellowship radio broadcast on Station WHKC, Columbus, in the morning at 9:30 in charge of the Maranatha pastor, Rev. Earl Holliday, the topic will be "Tend the Flock," in addition to the music of the program. At 6:30 p.m. at the church, for young people's meeting, the subject presented by Mrs. Alice Holliday will be "Vessels of Pleasure and No Pleasure." On Thursday night, the Young People's Missionary Society meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Holliday.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Filling the pulpit of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church tomorrow morning will be Robert Haslage, a student at Hamma Divinity School of Wittenberg College at Springfield.

Asbury Methodist

Guest preacher at Asbury Methodist Church tomorrow morning will be Rev. J. R. Dallas of Marion, a former pastor if the Oakland EUB Church. He will fill the pulpit because of the illness of the pastor, Earl N. Hale, and he will present another in the current series of sermons on Methodist beliefs, dealing with the belief of the church in the importance of man in the work of the Kingdom of God.

DR. T. H. JONES

Nazarene Church Congregation Will Hear Missionary

Dr. T. H. Jones, medical missionary from Africa, will speak in Marion Sunday at 10:40 a.m. at First Church of the Nazarene. A son of pioneer missionary parents, he was educated in South Africa and has been a missionary himself the last 20 years.

Before taking his furlough, he was medical superintendent of the Ethel Lucas Memorial Hospital and head of the Acornhoek Station in Eastern Transvaal. His medical training was received at the University of Witwaterstrand. He was associated formerly with the Internatiinal Holiness Mission before union of that denomination with the Church of the Nazarene in 1952.

On Friday night next week, two cottage prayer meetings will be held at the Otto Grace home and at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Williams. The pastor, Rev. L. L. Zimmerman, and Mrs. Zimmerman will attend next week at Athens, O., the annual Pastors Convention of the denomination's Central Ohio District. Principal speakers will be Rev. D. I. Vanderpool, general superintendent, and Rev. S. S. White, editor of the Herald of Holiness. The Zimmermans expect to return on Thursday.

OSWALD JOHNS
Welsh Baritone To Sing Here

Singer To Present Concert at Trinity Church on Sunday

A concert of sacred music will be presented at the Trinity Baptist Church Sunday evening by Oswald Johns, noted Welsh baritone who has included Marion on his current concert tour.

He has appeared in many of the nation's largest churches, over the radio, and in Carnegie Hall and other public auditoriums. Music critics have acclaimed his as a "truly great voice, possessing unusual brilliance, range, quality and stirring diction." He is a brother of the late Madam Johns-Evans, famed European soprano.

The pastor, Rev. J. B. Holloway, will preside at the service and Mrs. Cecil W. Davis will accompany him at the organ for a part of the concert and at the piano for several numbers. His program of vocal solos includes: "Open the Gates of the Temple," Knapp; "No Night There," Danks; "Little Mother of Mine," Burleigh; "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," Fearis; "The Blind Plowman," Clarke; "Bless This House," Brahe; "Arise, O Sun," Day; "The Lord Is My Light, Allitsen; "There Is No Death," O'Hara; "Abide with Me," Monks, Samuels; "Teach Me To Pray," Jewitt; "The Holy City," Adams; and "A Perfect Day," Bond.

The annual School of Missions of the Trinity Church will begin next week, with the first session held during the prayer meeting hour on Wednesday, the pastor, Rev. J. B. Holloway, conducting a study of "Baptists Under the Cross." Other sessions will be held during the Church School devotional periods, beginning the following Sunday and continuing for a month.

The monthly Church School Workers' Conference will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the church parlor. The guest speaker will be Miss Garnet Laird, teacher in the week day religious education program of Marion.

Brothers All

A Sermonette

By REV. J. PAUL GOEBEL
Pastor of First Evangelical and Reformed Church

"You have one teacher, and you are all brethren."—Matthew 23:8

The eyes of the world are on us these days, watching to see whether or not our much-vaunted freedom and equality of opportunity are real.

Our failures in race relations are being broadcast around the globe for the purpose of discrediting us in the eyes of colored people in other lands. Of course, those failures are magnified and distorted for propaganda purposes, not insofar as they are facts they give to our pleas for brotherhood a hollow sound.

REPORTING on his recent visit to India, Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, a prominent Negro churchman and educator, said that he was asked repeatedly "if Negroes are segregated by law in many sections of America, if Negroes are segregated in the house of God, if there are jobs that Negroes cannot hold because of color, if Negroes are denied eating privileges and hotel accommodations in some areas, and if in some sections they are intimidated so that they dare not vote." To all of which Dr. Mays had to answer "yes."

On the other hand he could assure his questioners of the significant fact that in the last two decades some very substantial progress had been made toward granting the Negro his rightful heritage. In such progress every fair-minded American must rejoice.

HOWEVER SLOWLY, we have come thus far because of the leavening influence of the Gospel, which insists on the inherent worth and dignity of every man. We shall continue to make progress only as we have the courage to carry out the implications of this Christian teaching. Christ summed up this prophetic doctrine in the familiar words: "You have one Teacher, and you are all brethren." This implies more than mental assent to a principle; it is rather personal loyalty to a fellowship of which One is the Master. Those who first heard the above challenge were all uneducated Jews. But before long the Christian fellowship was leaping over one boundary after another—national, racial, cultural, religious, and every other kind.

JEWS AND GENTILES. Pharisees and publicans, fishermen and philosophers, men and women, slaves and kings, Ethiopians and Romans—all joined the fellowship and sat in spirit at the feet of Jesus, recognizing Him as Master and Lord, and as the Son of the one God and Father of all. The inescapable conclusion of this is that we are brothers all.

Ministers of Lutheran Church To Meet Here

The Marion Local Lutheran Ministerial Conference will meet in Emanuel Church's educational building for an all-day meeting Tuesday.

asters appearing on the program will be Rev. Theodore Partridge of Cardington; Rev. Luther Muehlbrad, Cardington rural, and Rev. Paul Dobberstein of Prospect. Dinner will be served the pastors by a committee composed of Mrs. Lloyd Rehl, Mrs. Robert Brown, and Mrs. W. C. Boyd.

Major Legislation Put Off

The Week's Highlights in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Left in the lurch was most major legislation this week as Republicans set about the country making Lincoln Day speeches.

GOP attacks raised cries of "foul" from Democrats. House Minority Leader Rayburn of Texas sounded a party theme when he called Republican charges "mean untrue and dastardly," and called on President Eisenhower to order a halt.

Eisenhower counseled moderation—he said the times are too serious for extreme partisanship. Some GOP leaders, such as Vice President Nixon and Senate Majority Leader Knowland of California, seconded this idea.

But there was more Lincoln Day oratory against the Democrats as the week went on—and a rising crescendo of Democratic counterblasts against "rat sewer" politics.

BRICKER AMENDMENT

All this shoved in the background the "great debate," officially before the Senate, over a proposed constitutional amendment on treaty powers originally offered by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio). A substitute proposed by Sen. George (D-Ga) provoked a bit of brisk debate between the Georgian and some senators who don't like either the George or Bricker version. At week's end Knowland was where he's been since the fight started: In the middle of huddles aimed at finding a compromise acceptable to both Eisenhower and Senate amendment-seekers.

WARREN

Earl Warren's nomination to be Supreme Court chief justice sat in the same place it has been for a month—the Senate Judiciary Committee. Word seeped out of a dispute over procedure, not Warren's fitness. Some committee members were said to want an FBI check as a matter of course, while the Justice Department held against investigating an appointee to such high judicial office.

COFFEE

Both action and investigation featured Congrses' attack on the soaring cost of a cup of java. The Senate whisked through a bill to allow federal supervision over trading in coffee futures. Senate banking subcommittee probers listened to some top coffee exchange officials from New York, then called on coffee brokers—under subpoena if necessary—to list futures trades and traders of recent months.

CCC

A 682 million dollar boost for the Commodity Credit Corp.'s sagging finances got okayed by both House and Senate. The farm price support agency will want more soon; A bill to hike its borrowing authority by 1¾ billion dollars is in the works.

WETBACKS

AFL and CIO chiefs joined in denouncing a bill before the House Agriculture Committee to okay American hiring of Mexican farm labor without an agreement with Mexico. The committee gave the administration - backed measure overwhelming endorsement.

PASSAMAQUODDY

A venerable plan to harness the tides of Passamaquoddy Bay for electric power won new life when the Senate unanimously voted for a three million dollar study of whether it would work. The northern Maine border project was a hot idea 20 years ago in the early days of the New Deal.

BRAMBLETT

Rep. Bramblett (R-Calif) was convicted on charges of falsifying his congressional office payroll in a salary kickback scheme. His lawyers promised the legal fight wasn't over: If necessary, they said, they'd carry it right up to the Supreme Court.

Ohio Legislature Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Chairmen of study committees for the next session of the Legislature were named yesterday by the legislative service commission.

They are:

County fairs, Rep. Elton Kyle (R-Madison); lobbies, Sen. Raymond Hildebrand (R-Lucas); milk control, Rep. Ralph E. Fisher (R-Wayne); municipal court procedures, Rep James J. McGettrick (D-Cuyahoga); utilities, Rep. William Saxbe (R-Champaign), Korean bonuses, Sen. William Tyrrell (R-Preble); justices of the peace, Sen. Fred L. Hoffman (R-Hamilton).

Gambling Stamp Purchases Fall Off

CLEVELAND (AP) — Parker C. Williams, district internal revenue director, counted up gambling stamp purchases today and decided that professional gambling operations in this area are on the decline.

"You can't be positive that the gamblers are really giving up the ghost," he cautioned in an interview, "but from our records you can tell that they're either quitting, moving to greener pastures or going underground—operation without stamps."

Purchases of the $50 federal stamps—required by law since November 1951—totaled 570 in the fiscal period ended June 30, 1952. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1953, the purchases dropped to 366. And so far in the present fiscal year, only 297 stamps have been bought.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Begin and End Your Day Calmly

I know a man who has a reputation for driving energy Outstanding in his business, he carries a great many heavy responsibilities and is active in a wide variety of social, religious and civic organizations His schedule is so crowded that he scarcely has a free moment

DR PEALE

Yet this man carries his demanding program of activities with an ease and effectiveness that is most impressive You would imagine that this pressure would cause him to lose his enthusiasm and perhaps even his health But he carries it all lightly — at least, so it seems to me

I became curious as to his technique for doing this and, one day, I asked him about it 'Oh, it's really very simple' he told me 'I just make a point of beginning and ending my day calmly Once you have learned how to do that you can handle all the busy time in between without any trouble

'Exactly how do you begin your day calmly?' I persisted.

HE ANSWERED by explaining that he spends 15 minutes each morning in what he calls 'creative silence" He and his wife go into their living room and simply sit in silence for 15 minutes 'We do nothing We don't speak but remain silent If the telephone or doorbell ring we just let them ring We devote this time to communing with God and in drawing power out of the silence"

As he spoke, I remembered going to a Quaker meeting once and, in the silence there which was somewhat new and strange to me, finding a solution to a problem of my own Thomas Carlisle once wrote, 'Silence is the element in which great things fashion themselves" And William James pointed out "that man's silence power is equal in importance to his word power"

My friend then told me about ending his day After saying his prayers and getting into bed he quotes various Bible passages such as 'For so he giveth his beloved sleep" Passages like these he said enable him to have the peaceful rest from which he draws the driving energy needed to meet the many demands he makes upon himself.

AMONG OTHER passages he finds helpful in inducing natural and relaxing sleep are three more from the Bible

'Come unto me all that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest"

'Thou will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee'

In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength" These quieting passages he drops into his consciousness and thus he ends the day with deep calmness

This man needs no sleeping pills, no tricks to induce sleep. He has found in the Bible the serenity that brings the sweetest kind of rest

He bridges the gap between his morning periods of silence and the prayerful thoughts that bring him sleep by recalling statements he has read which have helped him One is from Confucious, The superior man is always quiet and calm' That remark carries with it the ageless wisdom of mankind.

ANOTHER IS from Robert Louis Stevenson, who said, "Sit loosely in the saddle of life' And a third comes from a poem by Edwin Markham and describes the fundamental source of power, "At the heart of the cyclone tearing the sky is a place of central calm' That is to say that power comes from a calm center

I recommend this man's technique to you Begin your day calmly, end it calmly bridge the gap between with great thoughts and you will find power and force This is the real art of living for out of peace comes power and out of quietness comes confidence 'In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength'

Coffee Broker Gives Probers List of Trades

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Beall (R Md) said today one New York coffee broker has supplied investigating senators with a complete list of all trades and traders in coffee futures contracts of recent months

Beall is chairman of a Senate banking subcommittee looking into the jump in coffee prices He said the group will wait "a week or ten days to enable other coffee brokers to supply similar lists on a voluntary basis He has said subpoenas will be used if necessary to get the information

The next public testimony, Beall said will be by large buyers of coffee such as chain stores and other retailers

Gustavo Lobo Jr president of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange has urged all members to supply lists of all transactions and lists of customers.

He said member firms are 'anxious to have the public know the facts and to disprove some of the erroneous statements'

Senators agreed not to publish names of customers and their trading in coffee unless they discover 'something out of line"

Beall said he would not make public at this time the name of the first broker to cooperate

This week the Senate approved a bill that would impose government regulation and supervision of all coffee futures trading by the Commodity Exchange Administration, an agency of the Agriculture Department

House members plan committee consideration of this bill during the coming week

Previews of the Coming Attractions at the Local Theaters

Story of Globetrotters Told in Film at Palace

"Go, Man, Go!", a sports romance telling the authentic story of the spectacular rise of Abe Saperstein and his fabulous Harlem Globetrotters from obscurity to world fame, will be the main attraction of a double feature Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

From the picture, basketball fans will learn for the first time the story behind the story of the Globetrotters' use of comedy in their competitive games.

Dane Clark shares star billing with the Globetrotters and portrays Abe Saperstein.

Completing the billing will be "Riders to the Stars," in color and starring William Lundigan, Herbert Marshall and Richard Carlson.

It is a story about three space pilots' attempt to capture a meteor and return it to the earth.

Billed for Wednesday and Thursday is a suspense thriller, "The Man Between," starring James Mason, Claire Bloom and Hildegarde Neff.

The picture deals with intrigue and secret agents in the relentless war for power that raged between the East and West sectors of Berlin. A young girl from London visits her brother and sister-in-law in Berlin and becomes enmeshed in an espionage plot.

A double feature also will be shown Friday and Saturday. The films will be "Saadia," in technicolor and starring Cornel Wilde, Mel Ferrer and Rita Gam, and "Donovan's Brain," presenting Lew Ayres and co-starring Gene Evans and Nancy Davis.

"Saadia" was filmed entirely in French Morocco and tells a story of a civilization in which the modern and medieval are curiously placed side by side and where enlightened rulers struggle to free their people from ancient beliefs in sorcery and witchcraft.

The latter is the story of a doctor who steals the brain of a dying man and keeps it alive in his laboratory after the body has died. Slowly he loses his own personality and becomes dominated by the dead man's brain.

MARLON BRANDO (right), is attacked by Lee Marvin while their "outlaw" motorcycle friends look on in the above scene from the film, "The Wild One," main attraction of a double feature opening today at the Ohio Theater to play through Wednesday.

The Week's Top Features

PALACE

Sunday-Tuesday — Double feature, "Go, Man, Go!" starring the Harlem Globetrotters and Dane Clark, and "Ride to the Stars" with William Lundigan, Herbert Marshall and Richard Carlson.

Wednesday-Thursday — "The Man Between" starring James Mason, Claire Bloom and Hildegarde Neff.

Friday-Saturday — Double feature, "Saadia" starring Cornel Wilde, Mel Ferrer and Rita Gam, and "Donovan's Brain" starring Lew Ayres, Gene Evans and Nancy Davis.

MARION

Sunday - Monday — "The Cowboy and the Girl" and "All the Brothers Were Valiant."

Tuesday-Wednesday — "I, The Jury" and "Hour of 13."

Thursday-Saturday — "Red River Shores" and "My Darling Clementine."

OHIO

Today through Wednesday — "The Wild One" starring Marlon Brando, Mary Murphy and Robert Keith, and 'B'ad For Each Other" starring Charlton Heston, Lizabeth Scott and Dianne Foster.

Starting Thursday — "The Robe" starring Richard Burton, Jean Simmons, Victor Mature and Michael Rennie.

STATE

Sunday-Monday — "Don't Bother to Knock" and "Column South."

Tuesday - Wednesday — "The Untamed Breed" and "Park Row."

Thursday - Friday — "It Happens Every Thursday" and "Night Raiders."

Saturday — "Abbott and Costello Meet the Invisible Man" and "Bowery Battalion."

Brando in 'Wild One' Opens at Ohio Theater

"The Wild One," story of a motorcyclist who goes on a bustup binge with his motorcycle cronies and virtually wrecks a small town, will be the main attraction of a double feature which opened today at the Ohio Theater and will play through Wednesday. Marlon Brando is starred and featured are Mary Murphy and Robert Keith.

Completing the billing will be "Bad For Each Other" starring Charlton Heston, Lizabeth Scott and Dianne Foster.

In "The Wild One," Brando plays the leader of the roughneck cyclists who roar into a small town spoiling for trouble because they have been barred from a motorcycle meet in an adjacent town. They wreck a car, intimidate the town's lone cop, insult the townspeople, chase the local girls and otherwise overstep their bounds. To add to the town's troubles, a rival gang of speedsters come into town and the leader fights, and is whipped, by Brando.

In "Bad For Each Other," Heston is seen as a young surgeon who puts money and the homes of the rich above medical service to the poor with whom he grew up until, in the blood and heat of a coal mine explosion, he is forced to choose between luxury and love.

First Cinemascope production to come to Marion will be at the Ohio Theater starting Thursday. "The Robe," first film ever made in the new medium, will be the attraction.

"The Robe," in technicolor, has a cast of thousands with Richard Burton, Jean Simmons, Victor Mature and Michael Rennie in starring roles. The picture is adapted from the great Lloyd C. Douglas novel.

It is a dramatic story which centers upon Marcellus, a Roman tribune who gambled at the foot of the cross where Jesus was slain and won the garment, the robe. He wore to His death. It is the story of guilt and repentance, of Marcellus' conversion to Christianity and of the final absolution and great love he experiences.

State Theater To Show 'Don't Bother To Knock'

"Don't Bother To Knock" starring Richard Widmark and Marilyn Monroe, and "Column South," in technicolor with Audie Murphy and Joan Evans, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Untamed Breed" and "Park Row." The former stars Sonny Tufts and Barbara Britton, and heading the cast in the latter are Gene Evans and Mary Welch.

Loretta Young and John Forsythe head the cast of "It Happens Every Thursday," main attraction of the double feature playing Thursday and Friday. Completing the billing will be "Night Raiders" with Whip Wilson.

Saturday only, the attractions will be "Abbott and Costello Meet The Invisible Man" starring Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, and "Bowery Battalion" with Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall.

John Wayne Picture On Marion Theater Bill

"The Cowboy and the Girl" starring John Wayne and Jean Arthur, and "All the Brothers Were Valiant" with Robert Taylor, Stewart Granger and Ann Blyth, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion Theater.

The former picture, a comedy romance, tells of the rocky love affair of a New York working girl on vacation and a rodeo rider on the prowl. The two meet when the rider is thrown from his mount and knocks the girl flat.

Robert Taylor is seen as Joel Shore, who sails for the Gilbert Islands in search of whales and also to find his brother Mark, who supposedly jumped ship on its previous voyage. He finds Mark and the adventures which caused his disappearance are unfolded in a series of flashbacks.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "I, The Jury," in 3-D, and "Hour of 13."

The fomer introduces Biff Elliot as Mike Hammer, with Preston Foster and Peggie Castle.

The attractions Thursday through Saturday will be "Red River Shores" and "My Darling Clementine."

HITLER'S CAR

WORCESTER, Mass. (UP) — Adolph Hitler's private automobile—a $35,000 Mercedes Benz with a 51½-gallion gasoline tank, five speeds and a 230-horsepower engine—has been repaired and repainted here preparatory to a nationwide tour. The five-ton car is owned by George Waterman and Kirkland Gibson of Providence, R. I.

Problem in Politics

The problem which President Eisenhower must solve if his administration breaks the stalemate which hamstrung Harry Truman has come into sharp focus.

The President brought it to a showdown with a rebuke to Republicans who roused the wrath of Democrats in Congress with allegations of treason under the Roosevelt and Truman administration.

The Republicans, of course, were firing the opening guns of the 1954 congressional campaigns in which they hope to gain a working majority in the House and Senate.

They were doing what is probably natural in the two party system of politics. They were voicing their thoughts to the people at large. They merely did to Democrats what the Democrats would do to them.

In the meantime, President Eisenhower must administer a government with the support of both parties in Congress. Either he must create some kind of coalition or find himself where Mr. Truman found himself—isolated in the Congress.

Mr. Truman was a partisan first, last and always. Partisanship was a way of life for him; he knew no other way. By alienating all his opposition and many of the members of his own party, he robbed himself of a working majority.

President Eisenhower is not a partisan in the sense that Mr. Truman was a partisan. He is a Republican but he is not a career-politician. Whether or not Republicans can win enough seats this year to give them a majority in both houses of Congress, he must administer the government until 1956.

When he asks the members of his party to do nothing which will make it impossible for moderates among Democrats to vote with moderates among Republicans to give him coalition support, he is asking for their help in running the first Republican government since the Hoover administration.

When some of them do things which sharpen a partisan division in which they do not have a working majority, they are disregarding the problem of support for a Republican legislative program.

All of which is to say that the merits of the program are secondary to purely political considerations, and unless Eisenhower turns down the vocal cords of some members of his party, the Democrats will not go along with him no matter what effect it might have on the welfare of the country.

Sudden Wealth

The credo that Communists are helped by everything which reflects anything less than perfection in the United States bobs up in strange places.

It has bobbed up now as one of two reasons why the welfare commissioner of New York City wants "Strike It Rich," the sugar-daddy of the giveaway shows, to get out of town.

This official says people who come to New York and fail to get on the show, which dramatizes human misery and hard luck, frequently must be rescued with public-relief funds.

That sounds like a legitimate complaint. But he goes on to add that "every time these poor souls have to expose their sores in public we are playing into the hands of the Communists. It is a return to the tin-cup-begging idea of charity."

Say not so, brother.

If it had been the custom to drop a couple thousand dollars into tin cups at one fell swoop, tin cups would have been worth $500 apiece—and cheap at the price. America would be famous among Europeans as the land where all a fellow has to do is hold out a tin cup, instead of the land where a member of the great unknown can land on a giveaway show and get the works.

Ivan Go Home

The trouble with Communist dialectics is that they twist and turn so deviously they can't be followed. They were planned that way.

The idea is to keep those who try to follow them so busy they won't see what the Kremlin is trying to do while its critics are tied up in endless arguments.

Take, for example, the newest nifty uncorked by Molotov at Berlin—that Europe is for the Europeans, therefore Americans should go home. This goes with the idea that Asia is for the Asiatics, therefore Europeans and Americans should go home.

The Soviet Union, lying both in Asia and Europe, is to retain the privilege of meddling in both Europe and Asia while everybody else gets out. That is what the Kremlin would like to do while Europeans, Asiatics and Americans become involved in one more endless and useless argument.

The fact is everybody concerned wants the Russians to go home—that scant majority of meddlers who dominate the 16 republics of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and would like some day to dominate the world.

If they would mind their own business, the world could quit being afraid — including their own neighbors in the U.S.S.R.

Reciprocative Matter

By David Lawrence

Will Democratic Speakers Be Kind to GOP?

Out of the gracious speech in the senate of Senator Carlson may grow a "be-kind-to-the-Democrats" movement applicable especially to the period of Lincoln Day dinners, but it will be of little avail unless the speakers of the Democratic party at Jefferson - Jackson Day banquets will reciprocate with a "be-kind-to-the-Republicans" attitude.

The Kansas senator thinks the Republicans at least have a right to criticize "extravagances" in government and "the fact that there was an effort to shield Communists."

Gov. Dewey, however, sees no good in attempting to gag the members of his party and charges that the Democrats in Congress who are trying to silence Republican critics cannot by such tactics "lessen the responsibility of the last administration for having bungled us into a war in Korea and for the ammunition shortage that caused the tragic, needless loss of many American lives."

On the other side of the political arena, Stephen Mitchell, the Democratic national chairman, doesn't seem to have taken too kindly to President Eisenhower's plea for more restraint and less extremism in political speech-making.

MITCHELL, through his publication "The Democratic Digest," has just declared that Attorney General Brownell accused former President Truman of "treasonable conduct."

A careful examination of what Brownell said at Chicago and his statements before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee reveals that the attorney general merely accused Truman of laxity in administration and of having misjudged the evidence about Harry Dexter White.

If Mitchell keeps on repeating his own sensational misstatement as a means of diverting attention from the real charge, must the Republicans remain silent? Or will they now be justified in reopening the publicity on the White case in order to set the record straight?

That's the kind of dilemma that has been produced by President Eisenhower's effort to apply conciliatory measures to political combat.

Incidentally, some of the Trumanite reporters are out to get the Eisenhower administration with as bad a press as they can muster. If the Eisenhower staffers are not quick on the comeback, they will lose ground for the Republican party.

A NOTABLE example of the partisanship evident in the news dispatches is the way some of the Trumanite reporters handled the political journey of Scott McLeod of the State Department.

McLeod happens to be tough on Communists and Communist sympathizers and, though he has said a dozen times his appointment was in no way brought about by Sen. McCarthy, scarcely a press dispatch goes out that doesn't attempt to link him somehow with the Wisconsin senator. When the fact that McLeod had accepted the invitation of the Republican National Committee to make a few speeches in South Dakota became known, the State Department was bombarded with requests from the reporters as to whether McLeod had obtained "leave of absence" without pay. It turned out that he did take leave of absence.

CURIOUSLY enough, when other State Department officials under the Truman administration made political speeches for the Democrats, no such fuss was raised and, of course, none was on "leave of absence." Here are a few of those Trumanite speaking engagements:

1. Assistant Secretary of State George McGhee addressed the Young Democrat National Convention at Chattanooga in November 1949.

2. Undersecretary of State James E. Webb addressed the Southern Democratic Party Conference at Raleigh, N.C., in January 1950, and also spoke at the National Democratic Party conference at Chicago in May 1950.

3. Assistant Secretary of State Edward G. Miller Jr., addressed a meeting in June 1950 under the auspices of the New York State Democratic Committee.

4. W. Averell Harriman, special assistant to President Truman, addressed the Midwest Democratic conference at Denver, Colo., in May 1951, at which he was substituting for Secretary Acheson.

5. Adrian Fisher, legal adviser to the State Department, was the principal speaker at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at Charleston, W. Va., on March 30, 1951.

6. Deputy Undersecretary of State Rusk, Assistant Secretary of State Barrett, and Assistant Secretary of State Thorp addressed meetings of the Women's National Democratic Club at Washington on various dates.

THERE'S NOTHING wrong with what these Truman officials did in making those speeches.

Nor is there anything wrong with what McLeod has done in making a Republican speech, though to read some press dispatches it might be inferred that he had done something that never had been done before.

If McLeod, who took leave of absence, is to set a precedent for all political speeches by government officials hereafter, the major parties are going to have trouble getting speakers from the government to go out on the stump unless the political committees compensate them. That's not a good system for either party.

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: You have my sympathy over the matter of the bouble double - cross you wrote about. It is enough to make a man want to turn his back on this age of gimmicks and crooked thinking.

But if you will take an old man's experience for what it is worth, here are a few things to remember about chiselers who not only will double-cross their friends but then will double-cross the people who helped them do the double-crossing.

There is nothing new about them. In politics, business and the arts, history is full of sell-outs and betrayals. There is no lack of evidence that most things have fallen into the clutches of double-crossers at one time or another.

There are innumerable instances of public officials being paid off to evade their duty and then turning against the people who paid them off in order to get paid off better by someone else. Such things happen in the smallest of governments as well as the largest. They also happen in business.

The thing experience can teach you is that there is an endless contest between people who think in circles—the crooked ones—and people who think in straight lines—the honest ones. If it seems that most of the time the crooks have the straight-line thinkers on the ropes, that's actually the way it is.

But the straight - line thinkers have endurance. Every so often they get off the ropes and strike a few solid blows for freedom. Maybe all they do is vote in a new set of rascals, but they keep rascals in general from becoming so entrenched they never can be dislodged.

About 30 years ago I worked for a time with some rascals to get rid of another set of rascals who had been giving the township a raw deal. We got rid of the one set and in due time I had to double - cross the other set to get rid of them. In the end, we got rid of rascality in the township. It was my leadership in this fight and the fact I never asked anything for myself that made me a part-time political boss around here.

Never let the devious thinkers get you down because what they do is a way of life with them. If they landed in Paradise by some mischance they soon would be working an angle up there. They'd have a get-rich-quick gimmick. They'd be doping out a scheme to smuggle devils past the Pearly Gates and when they got caught they'd beat the rap by paying off someone who knew an angel who once had done a favor for the Keeper of the Gates.

They can't help doing this any more than a snake can help crawling on its belly or a ferret can help exploring holes in the ground. It's the way they think. Don't let it depress you. Above all don't let it make you wonder if you are being a square for thinking in straight lines instead of circles.

Sure you're being a square. That's nothing to be ashamed of. Squares keep things in balance. In a country where they have a right to vote and throw out the crooks, they check the inbreeding of corruption which always has destroyed dictatorships in the past and will continue to destroy them in the future.

Your aunt subscribes to the idea you should not resent being a square. She recalls when you were a child you asked for cookies straight out, instead of working an angle. It used to amaze her and also amused her because you always ended up with more cookies in the long run than you would have had if you had tried to wheedle her, bribe her or double-cross her.

Our regards to you and yours. May you all be squares forever.

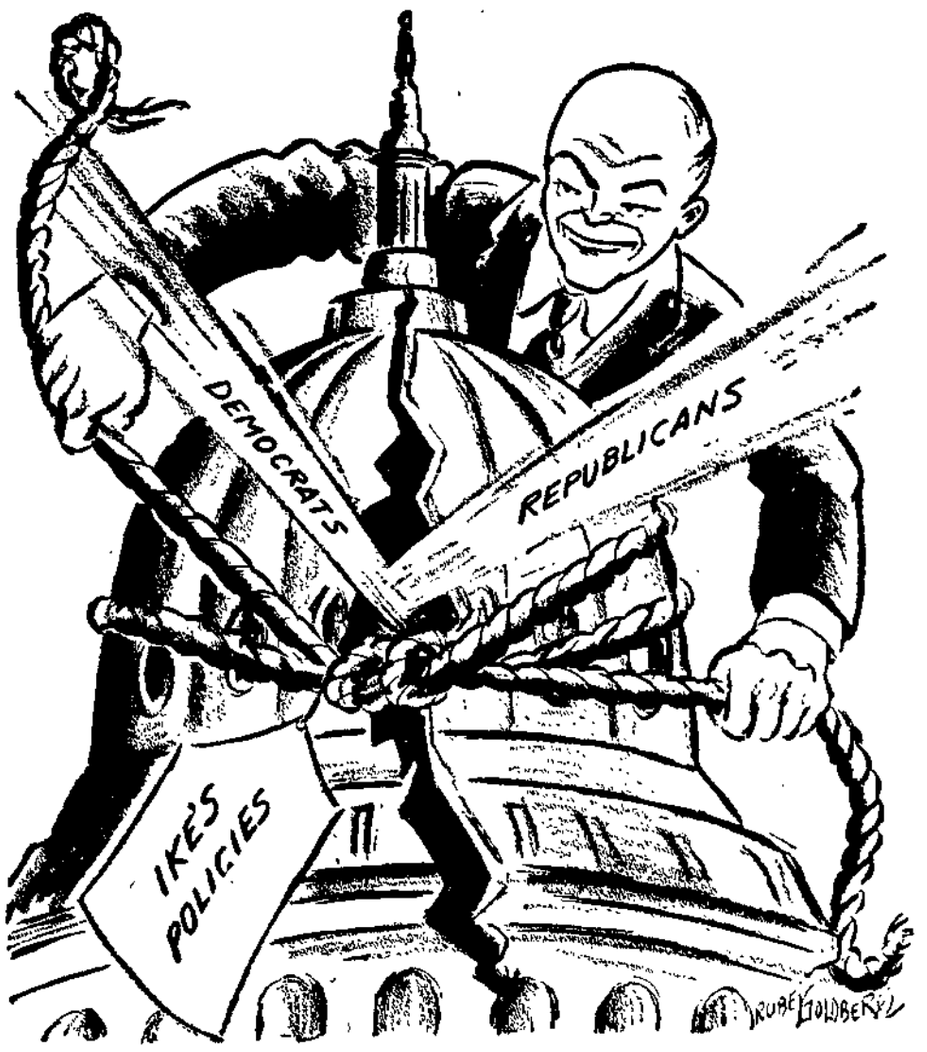
A Hard Pull



German Churches Retain Independence

By Martin S. Hayden

BERLIN

As they would not ring them in another day for Adolf Hitler, so today do Germany's clergymen refuse to toll their steeple bells for Dwight Eisenhower or Georgi Malenkov.

The bellringers' independence typifies an oddity of today's split and occupied Germany: existence of the church, both Protestant and Catholic, as the one force that spans the Iron Curtain.

Both religions cooperate to a specific point with the democratic West, and both live in the East by giving surface collaboration—up to the point of sacrificing principle — with the Communist regime.

That they get away with it is a new paradox in modern German history with its contradictory system under which churches have lived off the state's tax collectors, while still holding to their separation from state political control.

THE TOLLING of the bells as a symbol of church separation from state was played up recently in a press release from the Berlin office of the American high commissioner. It emphasized the "almost unprecedented" action of Berlin Catholic and Protestant pastors in ordering simultaneous bell ringing as a sign of united Christian hope that the Berlin meeting of foreign ministers would find a path to European peace.

That was "politics" with a sweep sufficiently broad to be outside the church rule that the bells ring for religious purposes and not for governmental propaganda.

It was different when Hitler called futilely for a tolling of the bells to celebrate his Polish victories. It was different, too, several years ago when the American Military Government virtually ordered a simultaneous ringing from church steeples at the instant of the dedication of Berlin's symbolic liberty bell. The answer was "No."

The bell symbol and general church attitudes are explained by Dr. Wolf Dieter Zimmerman, assistant to Bishop Otto Dibelius who specifically rules Berlin and Brandenburg protestantism and also heads the Evangelical Church Council for all Germany.

"If we ring them today for President Eisenhower," he says, "tomorrow in the East they will want them rung in honor of Malenkov's birthday. We want to continue as the one force between East and West."

CONTROL by the Western zone church hierarchies over their Communist area dioceses continues despite one harsh Soviet blow: the cancellation of the state church tax. For decades both Catholic and Protestant churches have obtained their principal revenues from the peculiarly German institution under which the state adds an automatic 10 per cent to each church member's income taxes and rebates the money to his pastor.

Conceding ruefully that the state tax collection may have dulled German pastors' energy in enforcing church attendance (in a typical Berlin Protestant parish today 30,000 are taxed but only 1,000 attend services regularly) Dr. Zimmerman adds that the Communist stratagem has hurt.

"To counteract it," he says, "we have set up our own church tax office in the East and mail out bills based on our estimate of parishioners' income. Many do not pay and, since the East regime forbids solicitation off the church property, our ministers are financially pressed to keep going."

GERMANY'S Protestant pastors divide in their personal attitudes in the struggle between East and West. On one extreme is Bishop Hanns Lilje of Hanover, open in his belief that Germany must rearm and join the European army. In the center is Bishop Dibelius, spokesman for the idea of limited collaboration with the Communists. On the other side are such pastors as Probst Heinrich Gruber, Protestant liaison officer in East Germany, and the famed Pastor Martin Niemoller, evangelical president in Hessen; they favor an idea (applauded by the Communists) that Germany should be a neutralist force in divided Europe.

Zimmerman disagrees with the Gruber - Niemoller views. But he denies they were Communist sympathizers when, for instance, they opposed the publicized American food distribution to east zoners on the ground that "charity" should be dispensed without propaganda.

"Both Niemoller and Gruber," says Zimmerman, "spent long years in Nazi concentration camps; I, too, was similarly imprisoned. As a result we have a little different view of Communists than do you in America.

"For you it is simple: Communism is bad and all Communists are atom spies and bad men. Some of us remember concentration-camp days when Communist cellmates shared a piece of bread when we were starving; now, while we hate what they stand for, we can't hate them as individuals."

AS THE PROTESTANT approach to Communism varies from the Lilje to the Niemoller approach, so are Catholic tactics varied in accordance with area. In the Rhineland their Communist denunciation is unvaried; in Berlin and the East their opposition is quieter and marked by such incidents as the decision of the ruling Catholic bishop to accede to a Dresden Communist demand last December that Catholic youth participate in a semireligious celebration of Stalin's birthday.

"To the bishop," an American official here explains, "it seemed best not to make an issue of that particular order. It did not, he decided, violate principle and it was his decision not to create an issue that could have forced his church underground and curbed its usefulness at a still - maintained outpost behind the Iron Curtain."

Protests in England

By MARK DANA

The protests by some residents of England and some members of the opposition Labor party to the continued presence in England of the U. S. Third Air Force have not been stilled by Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, but he at least has shown a typical firmness once more.

In reply to certain protests voiced in the British House of Commons, he asserted that the U. S. could and should maintain use of its air bases in Britain, "so long as needed in the general interest of world peace and security."

He might have reminded, but did not, that even during the height of World War II when bomber and fighter planes of the U. S. Eighth Air Force under Gen. James H. Doolittle based in England in their strategic warfare, defending England and points West, some Britons voiced similar complaints. It seemed that the American bases tended to draw enemy fire and attention to Britain; that the American planes made the island more vulnerable, more of a purposeful target.

Thus does feverish emotion play havoc with common sense reasoning. The British maintained the bases for the Eighth Air Force, but they are now paying only $49,000 a year toward maintenance of the bases for the Third Air Force, a fraction of the cost of a single fighter plane.

The U. S. has similar air bases in Germany and France, and on paper at least has some in Spain although some followers of Generalissimo Franco are worked up on this subject. Flimsy and ephemeral objections to U. S. protective troops have been raised by unthinking elements of the French and German populations, but informed elements are convinced otherwise.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Molotov Musicale

"Mr. Molotov gave a musicale for Messrs. Dulles, Eden and Bidault," said the news item. "It was held at the Soviet Embassy in East Germany with solos, folk songs, a concert and ballet dancing." Well, the Big Four meeting was not a complete failure; our side got some Russian music and dancing out of it.

The U.S.S.R. is for unity if it takes its last balalaika player. This column's correspondent wires us: "There was some nervousness on our side as Molotov's concert began, since there was always a fear he might make an about-face and repudiate the event. Music had not been on the agenda. Ballet dancing had not been regarded as an international issue.

"The Big Three were always willing to concede that the ballet was no treaty to peace. Molotov had spent the whole day previous to the musical denouncing our side, berating our statesmen and smearing the free world.

It seemed strange to be at a musicale given by a man who had just thrown everything but the kitchen sink at you, Dulles, Eden and Bidault felt relieved when it became certain Molotov would not lead the orchestra, facing backwards, or sing a solo upside down.

Our correspondent sent us the musicale program:

Violin solo: (1) When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob-Bob-Bobbin' Along"; (2) "You Take the High Road and I'll Take the Double-Cross Road."

Bass Solo: "It'll Be Seeing You With All the Old Familiar Monkey Wrenches"; (2) "Stranger In Paradise"; (3) "If I Could Make You Mine."

Orchestra: Malenkov's "Runaround Polka," (2) "Vituperation in C Minor"; (3) "Everything You Have Belongs to ME."

Moscow Quartette: "The World is Mine"; (2) "All We Want for Christmas Is Your Two Front Teeth"; (3) "Accentuate the Negative"; (4) "Ricochet Love" (or the "Yalta Reversal").

We asked our correspondent if the Molotov musicale was enjoyed in any sense. "Well, no fights broke out," he said. "I thought Dulles kept watching the bull fiddler as if he suspected the player might start throwing it instead of playing it, and he seemed to think a ballerina's jumps were a little hostile in spots. Eden was at ease. But Bidault was highly nervous. Russian music on German soil for a French listener can be tough."

DOWN, CRIME WAVE, DOWN!

(New York's police band and glee clubs have been disbanded to put more men on the streets to fight crime."—News item.)

Cheer up when yeggs around you hop
And you phone in to get a cop:
You will not hear a voice intone,
"He's busy with his saxophone!"
When in a lovely park you stroll
And muggers seek to grab your roll
Assistance won't be lost, you know,
Through accent on the piccolo.

II

You're walking on a crowded street
When enterprising thugs you meet:
You won't discover, with dismay,
A cello keeps the cop away;
You hear a floor creak in the night. . .
A burglar's there! . . . Your nerves get tight. . .
Your phone call for the cops won't get
"We're busy on the clarinet!"

III

Should you be set upon by goons
And have no need for lively tunes,
Your screams won't bring (in quite a fizzy)
"Our flutes and oboes are too busy!". . .
So welcome now to happiness
In time of crime and dark distress;
There'll be less music (and be-bop)
BUT MAYBE YOU CAN FIND A COP!

4 Farm Plans Given Approval

Soil Conservation Unit Acts on Applications

Four farm plans were approved by the Marion County soil conservation district board of supervisors at the board's February meeting Thursday night in the U.S. soil conservation office in Marion.

Presented to the board by W. L. Williams and E. E. Weaver, the following plans were approved: Paul Louderbeck, Richland Township, 80 acres; Henry C. Wenig, Grand Prairie Township, 200 acres; and A. P. Isler, Prospect Township, 130 acres. An initial plan for G. B. Wood's Pleasant Township farm also was approved.

C. O. Steele, area conservationist, discussed a new memorandum of understanding to be signed by the Marion County soil conservation district and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. The memorandum is supplemental to one which outlines cooperation between the district and Department of Agriculture agencies. It describes responsibilities of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and the district.

O. J. Retterer reported on district activities during the past month. Board members present were C. W. Baldinger, John E. Ruth, Carl F. Seiter and A. P. Isler.

About 500,000 elementary and high school children in the United States have some form of heart or blood vessel disease.

Company in Maine Still Offers Nickel Bus Rides

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Got a nickel? Want to go somewhere You still can—provided you want to travel from Biddeford, Maine, to Saco, Maine. Or even vice versa.

The nickel fare is a memory in most cities. In New York City for example, transit fares have tripled in the memory of citizens only five years of age—not that these particular citizens care much. But a lot of others do.

Transit companies tell you, and other statistics if you question them, that operating costs are way up yonder.

Costs Up

Equipment costs more than in the good old days. Traffic is so dense and so slow that 10 buses today can scarcely do the work that one did a few years ago. Labor gets a lot more pay—and labor has statistics, too, to support its contention that wages had to be higher if it were to go on eating and wearing clothes and sleeping under a non-leaking roof.

But up in Maine, they still can take seriously that crack, "What this country needs is a good five cent nickel."

The Biddeford & Saco Railroad Co. (bus line, to you) still operates on a five-cent fare.

"The only one left in the country, is the boast of its president, J. Burton Stride.

It started 67 years ago with two-horse, open-car, four-wheeled conveyances. The Maine state railroad commissioners reported its 63 horses were "well cared for and kindly treated.

Buses in 1939

In 1891 is changed to electric trams and in 1939 to modern buses. But all that time it's stayed loyal to the lowly nickel.

The transit lines principle customers along its 20 mile route are textile workers from the plants of Bates, Pepperell and Saco-Lowell

How does the transit line manage to go along on a five-cent fare?

President Stride says his employes have wage scales comparable to those of the larger transport lines. There are 8 regular drivers and 2 mechanics for the 10 buses the company owns. Stride says they enjoy paid vacations, sick leave benefits, paid-up insurance and bonus awards, just like employes of lines that collect higher fares.

The company has the advantage of a centrally located garage. A bus passes it twice during each trip, and that cuts costs of repairs when needed.

Stride gives a lot of credit to the use of modern equipment which keeps operating costs down. And he boasts of countless money and labor saving devices both on the buses and in the office.

The company's overhead is held down because it has only two working executives and one secretary.

Short Circuits Set Two Minor Fires

Marion city firemen were called out to two small loss fires yesterday and early today.

At 7:28 a.m. today, Central station firemen answered a call to the Western Union telegraph office at 228 W. Center St. They reported a short circuit in electric wires in a ceiling light caused negligible damage.

A short circuit in some electric wires caused slight damage to a truck owned by the Weaver Economy Gas Service of Upper Sandusky as it was traveling along on Delaware Ave. near the City Hospital at 4:08 p.m. Friday. Central station firemen who answered the call reported insulation burned off the wires.

BABY STRANGLED IN CRIB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 15-month-ol baby strangled on a cord that held his crib together here yesterday. He was Richard Lee Merz, son of Seaman 1. C. and Mrs. Leo R. Merz Jr.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Hard Round Pebbles

Well, radio had Tony Wons and survived. I confidently predict that television will survive Liberace, too. These are just growing pains, kiddies. Sometimes, a man wonders, though, whether the women of this fair land are people or whether some other designation ought to be given them — say, plips — to distinguish them from the rest of us.

J. CROSBY

The things women go nuts over resist rational interpretation and way up on the head of the list—strenuously resisting any form of explanation—is Liberace. Still, there's no arguing that the dames go for this guy. His audience is two-thirds female. (I don't know how the one-third males got in there. Dragged, I expect. You notice it took two gals to drag each man in.)

IF WOMEN VOTE for Liberace as a piano player—and they sure do—it raises grave questions about their competence to vote for anything. I'm not suggesting that we repeal the Nineteenth Amendment, exactly, just that maybe we think about it a little bit.

Liberace—his dimples, his flowing curls, his flashing teeth, and (only incidentally) his piano—are now on 134 television stations, delighting heaven knows how many elderly and teen-age plips and infuriating heaven knows how many men. The program opens with Liberace banging away on his piano in almost total darkness; then the lights come up gradually and there is Liberace, bathed in illumination like a minor revelation. If you think he can play the piano any better with the lights on than with them off, you are kidding yourself, chum. He does just as well in the dark as he does in the daylight which is to say not very well.

THE LIBERACE repertoire deserves special mention of its own. It isn't true, as an embittered friend of mine once said, that Liberace just plays "Lady of Spain" over and over again in different keys. He has lots of other numbers, most of them "The Warsaw Concerto." He plays them heavily with little theatrical flourishes and rills and usually ending with one finger scampering the length of the keyboard.

Bless my soul, if it doesn't bring back memories of a dear departed auntie of mine who played that way. Auntie had almost as much hair as Liberace but no dimples and she died, unfortunately, before television was invented. Auntie would have loved Liberace.

While he's playing, other dim figures float around him—a girl with a tambourine, or men with violins, or what have you. Liberace's counterpoint to an electric guitar reminds me of a statement Joseph Conrad made about another piano player in "Victory" who, he said, rained notes like hard round pebbles on the defenseless skulls of the onlookers.

ONCE IN AWHILE, Liberace raises his lungs—he has a voice like an unsuccessful contestant on the Amateur Hour—in song and on these occasions you are thankful that nobody has written words to "The Warsaw Concerto." He does comedy numbers, too, horrible enough to drive Victor Borge right back to serious music and in these he is likely to do great violence to some of the finest music Wagner ever wrote by affixing silly lyrics to them.

Still, he's on 134 television stations as millions of plips swoon from New York to Amarillo. Just after he faded back into the darkness singing that he'd be seeing me when the night is new (Like fudge he will!), I got out some of the records of Buddy Weed, a pianist who has more talent in his index finger than Liberace in all ten, and played them. They were wonderfully soothing.

Tax Revision

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

A large element in the American population is self-employed. Grocers, butchers, musicians, writers, lecturers, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, clergymen, manicurists — the list is long of Americans honorably engaged in numerous services and arts who manage their own affairs on a comparatively small scale.

This country was built by such self-employed citizens. Practically all of our great corporations are the product of their genius and success. Many of them remain small businessmen. Many of them continue to engage in efforts at smaller or larger fees.

This, in some countries, is called the petite bourgeoisie, the lower middle class, the economic and social backbone of any country.

NOW SUCH MEN and women have a partner, the government of the United States. Naturally, they have to pay income taxes and have to keep books and records just like a large corporation.

The cost of such records, by inexperienced people, involves lots of time, which is tough on self-employed people who cannot afford to work only 40 hours a week. There is no living in that. Many have to hire an accountant (also a self - employed person), who charges for his time.

The income tax is squeezing the self-employed person to the wall. But nothing is harder on him than to have a field man from the Internal Revenue Bureau show up two years later to challenge his judgment as to business deductions.

The self employed person, using small capital, often operating his business out of current earnings, needs as much elbow room, if he is to be successful, as a large corporation.

A very distinguished lady, whose name is known to most, very often lectures before large audiences. This is an excruciating business, often requiring many hours of travel.

EACH ENGAGEMENT is physically and mentally trying. Often it involves pleasant but exhausting social engagements which are essential to the business. (This is also true of concert artists who travel.) The lady has a room on the train, a bedroom or a compartment or a drawing room, whichever is available. She requires a room often because she has to do some writing on the train.

Two years later, a field man questions her judgment as to the use of drawing rooms, costing extra fares.

Her judgment ought to prevail, she is as much entitled to keep herself in shape for the next engagement, so that she looked fresh and spoke ably, as a cigarette company is entitled to spend money to advertise its wares.

SOME TRAVELING salesmen work on commission, being allowed a drawing account. An important element in their selling ability is a capacity for good-fellowship. That often comes to a considerable expenditure for entertainment.

Larger corporations can absorb these expenditures in their stride. The self-employed take it out of their own income. In their record of deductions, such items stand out like sore thumbs, often seeming large for the volume of business they do, because a fellow figures that if he does not get the account this year, goodfellowship may bring it to him next year.

It is as much an investment as buying shares in General Motors. Two years later, the field man shows up and insists on disallowing the entertainment costs. There is a prolonged argument in which neither side convinces the other.

I am not criticizing the field men nor even the Internal Revenue Bureau.

THE SYSTEM needs revision if self-employed citizens are to continue to exist.

Those who can afford to hire accountants are advised as to best procedure, but no one can really know because it becomes a matter of judgment, not of rule.

Meanwhile, savings become difficult and the self-employed person finds that he is setting nothing aside for a prolonged illness, for his wife and children, should he die.

For ten months of the year, he hypnotizes himself into believing that he is doing well. On January 15, he makes his estimate and knows that he is in difficulties; on March 15, he is in trouble.

The tax may leave him without sufficient working capital. He is reduced to the proletariat, to being a man who works for another.

This is a serious problem that requires serious attention. It is altering our social system.

Issue Mailer

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

CLEVELAND: Operating swiftly on the crime experts' theory that the "pattern of labor racketeering is highlighted" in Ohio, President Eisenhower and his cabinet have just thrown every federal agency into a many - pronged probe of terror on this front in the Buckeye State.

It can now be revealed that the Department of Justice has set up a silent, but fast-moving task force to review all recent labor-racket probes including the Detroit hearings into union welfare funds and juke-box abuses. A painstaking search is being made of the records to establish perjury charges, violations of federal law and disdain for the income tax bureau.

Then this task orce, working with the Treasury Department and the FBI, will move for indictments in Ohio and Michigan. This move has special White House approval.

This official support for the probes was voiced last week in closed sessions run by Ohio's Representative George Bender, whose racketbusting sub-committee staff is spread out over the entire East.

Secretary of Labor James Mitchell and National Labor Relations Board chief Guy Farmer told Bender that they knew nothing specific about labor racketeering but backed up his probe and offered whatever help their agencies could provide.

AT THE SAME time FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover told his regional G-men to give Bender all the cooperation he seeks. Bender has been in Columbus, the state capital, following up leads handed him by the FBI during several conferences in Washington earlier this month.

Although Bender announced, when he was named head of the anti-crime sub-committee of the House Committee on Government Operations, that he would first look into the juke box rackets here, the probe will inevitably go far beyond this field which is just a sideline to "the boys."

The so-called union leaders who control the juke box "labor field" in Detroit and Cleveland are linked with other Teamsters' Union officials and with a network reaching into the garment industry, some machine plants, the entertainment world, Joe Fay's crowd—and a dozen other business fields dependent on heavy transportation for survival.

Already, Bender's chief investigator, a hard hitting chap by the name of Art Toll, has discovered links between the Detroit-Cleveland crowd and what appears to be their national headquarters in New York. Toll was in the big town early this week tracking down these leads. And if he goes far enough, he'll find they extend right to the corrupt New York waterfront, too.

THE MIDWEST juke box locals are part of the Teamsters' Brotherhood, and Bender will base much of his early probing on the questioning of William Presser, that union's top official in Ohio. Presser is known to be the special objective too of Michigan's Representative Clare Hoffman, who conducted the recent Detroit inquiry into labor racketeering in the whole vending machine field.

Although Hoffman is feuding with Bender, the angry upstate Michigan legislator plans to sit in on some of the hearings in the hope that he can needle Presser into expanding on his relationship with Detroit's juke box boss, William Bufalino, and two men named Vincent and Angelo Meli, it has been learned.

During recent questioning in Detroit, Presser admitted knowing both Melis. The older man, Angelo Meli, is a wealthy operator now up for deportation. He has a police record of some 17 arrests on charges ranginf rom murder to kidnapping. Both Melis have had interests in the juke box field.

BENDER HAS let 1 onbtkenw that he will subpena Presser, who is both president of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters and head of Teamsters Local 410, Vending Service Employes Union.

Presser, meanwhile, has been "unavailable" to Cleveland's Inspector of Detectives, James. E. McArthur, who sought the union leader for questioning on leads to the solution of a series of stench bombings allegedly linked to a monopolistic juke box crowd.

So tough is this crowd that it allegedly has the power to warn restaurant owners not to play radios for the amusement of their customers — if the tavern once had a jike box. One woman, Mrs. Olga Wisnosky, owner of the Blossom Restaurant, 7825 St. Clair Ave., in Cleveland, charges she was told she couldn't substitute radio music for a juke box, which she had just removed because the union-juke box owners combination took too much of the profits.

Obviously, this probe will make national headlines and national issues since it will hit at the Midwest section of the nation's biggest union.

Out of this investigation can come the real showdown on all labor rackets — and perhaps a clean up, too.

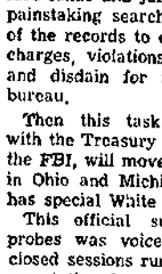
Plastic Model

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — Twenty-five men a day ask pretty Pat Matteson this question:

"Are you made of plastic?"

"No, I'm sorry to say," replies Pat, gallantly smiling in an effort to make each man think he has said something terribly funny.



HAL BOYLE

Pat, who is 25 and comes from Chicago, is getting to be tops in a new kind of professional modeling. Girls used to model hats, clothes or (as they grew older) corsets. Today they also help sell new models of machinery—anything from the better mousetrap to the finer steam-shovel—and they have to do more than merely look lovely. They have to know what they're talking about, so they can explain it to the public.

—:—

THIS WEEK, for example, Pat has been answering 500 questions a day at the International Motor Sports here. She is demonstrating the Kaiser Darrin auto, one of the first plastic American sports cars put into assembly line production.

Cars with plastic bodies are still a mystery to most motorists. They want to know if the plastic will dent if people lean on it, whether snow will melt the plastic, whether hot water will make a hole in it, or whether insects will become permanently embedded in it.

"No . . . no . . .no," says Pat. "But a motorist can repair a fender dent in the same way he'd patch a tire. And he can fix it so it doesn't show.

"If a lady wants to change the color of the plastic body to match her hat, gloves or a new dress. She can do so by spraying on a new paint with a vacuum cleaner. But it would take her three hours."

THERE IS a growing interest in sports cars. In the first few days of the show here sales passed the million dollar mark. Since the car Pat is demonstrating sells in the $3,750-$4,000 class, and foreign cars are priced up to $17,000, obviously the market isn't among teenage hot rodders.

"It is older people who can afford them who show the most interest," she said.

One elderly man, after exploring the potentialities of the plastic car, asked Pat if she would consider a proposal of marriage. Turning on her most plastic smile, Pat responded with feigned eagerness, "Consider it? Why—"

The man left in a hurry.

"But you'd be surprised how few serious wolves there are," said Pat, who feels she is a typical Middlewest girl, even though she does like to wear plastic silver fingernail polish.

HER VERSATILE modeling ability enables her to travel and earn the kind of money stenographers dream about. She has modeled hats, appeared on television, and demonstrated cigarettes, home furnishings, and a new magnetic starter motor for the General Electric people.

It was her skill at putting together, taking apart and explaining the mechanism of the magnetic starter motor that won Pat her job of demonstrating the plastic sports car.

"It is really interesting work," she said. "Next week I'll be with the frozen foods show. I believe I'm to put whipped cream on cookies."

And she is already thinking up polite answers to questions like, "And whose little cookie are you, my dear?" In her job a girl has to keep a plastic mind.
